...

The truth is what it used to be
A nightmare born from fantasies
A door that opens up the key
That leads far beyond reality

On chains we live and then we die
There is no answer, don't ask me why
But I'm eager to get some information
Before I reach my final destination

So we don't know
What this is all about
But what I know
Suspicion pays a lot

And if we fail and have to fall
It does not matter after all
Makes no difference even it does
Because we are heading for the stars

Those waves transcend into the soul
We don't have to understand it after all
Hope's anyway lost that we all know
What remains to be done, can be done very slow

If it's multiplication or division
We can't do anything without a decision
Who is doing the calculation
If it is only a speculation

Just whispers, like wind in the sky
They talk with you but you don't know why
Is it worth that you will defend it
No words of use here you need to bend it

Drifting apart
Does not help to be smart
This goal we have
One truth to be saved

We should be drinking
From the sea of love

Reflection

If you passed all the struggles in life
And all it took to survive
Than look at your heart and see if it still feels love anymore
And if nothing is there, then you failed the test to answer what life was actually for

For it was not the goal that you are winning their game
If you lost your soul on the way
The most precious thing you will ever had
You have given away

Neither the temple they build, nor the pressure they cause
Can fill the whole they create
As once you are lost and filled up with gold
You will start slipping away

Nothing brings back what you lost at the end
But instead you should have saved
Who will be with you, it will not be your friend
At best, just another one of the slaves

Down in the dirt
Because of treasures from nature or man
Whatever does hurt
Nothing will hurt as most as losing your most precious thing

Now, even if only one minute is left for you to live
Turn and search for the thing that you lost along the way
Maybe, only maybe, if not already too far gone
It comes back and asks if it should now stay

Take its hand and leave the place
No darkness as darkness without
All the violence in the world
Do nothing if your most precious thing will be saved

Comparing

Yet, it seems not obvious
What I want to have, should not be yours
I saw you in my dreams
You have the most precious things

So, looking at my empty hands
There is a reason I can't have no friends
Something lingers in my reality
It cannot feel, but wants to see

The absolute again not great
The relative which makes me hate
I do not see your work in here
Was not afraid, but now I fear

The balance shifts in favor to you
I want the lie, can't stand the truth
The thing I need, I do not have
I built my walls, now build my grave

And all what was so tiny once
Is getting bigger, as it belongs
To something I experienced long time ago
It is not warm, but rather cold

Makes me freeze, now cannot move
It is the difference which speaks the truth
To me, but only I can hear
Ends the laugh, and starts the tears

Now all the ones who had it all
Compared to me, they have to fall
If it's not true, my final call
I am not waiting, I want it all.

Clinging

You are perfect, yes it is true
Don't want someone else, I chose you
Myself is desperate, need to get out of the blue
Being with you as else I am too few

Every hour, every day
From the morning till the sun will fade
From the evening, till the moon will fall
I need not one thing from you, I need it all

Being on your side, is what makes me strong
Have to go with you, not all alone
I can feel it in my nerves and in my bones
There is no rest like in your home

The bed is cold without your skin
Can't be outside, need to be in
Give you my hand, you need to take
You have to love me, else I will break

What you are looking for, I will transform
Out of desires, I will be borne
So lost without you, I know now
You need to need me, but I don't know how

Every path you gonna take
I will follow every step
Never the first one, always last
You are the future, I am the past

And if you leave me, I can tell
Will not be heaven, but will be hell
As I don't know what else to do
Need nothing else, but all of you.

Enjoying

I have succeeded, all is done
It was no failure, I have won
What was once, no it's undone
Nightmares away, only the sun

On the grass, I think aloud
There is no rain, there is no cloud
My body tells me, deserved it all
It tried to climb, there was no fall

The wind is cooling and makes me breathe
What I was planning for I have achieved
Don't need it different, all is here
All my worries disappeared

Now flying on the sands of time
What luck was out there, I claimed as mine
Not being worried, feeling fine
It is no sin, it is no crime

The people said we all will die
And even if this is not a lie
The moment here is all we need
To make a future we want to keep

So gave up to fight against
There are no enemies here, only friends
They want the same, give me your hand
We both can be in the Promised Land

And if you indeed think you want the same
Then don't feel the anger, don't feel the pain
Everything is as it should be
You already won, and that's the key.

Jovial

Even if the skies would have said no
You had to do it, was not your fault
Similarly like you
All of us went through

No need to be ashamed
I will not call your name
I saw it too
Sometimes we are simply not good

For the test we have to pass
But that is not the thing which lasts
Don't give up and try again
The mistakes are wisdoms best friend

Make it better if you can
If not, look for someone you can send A task from high above seems small
Even if from below its tall

The errors that we all have made
Are not to worry, not great mistakes
Better we made them well before
The learner has to close his door

So stand up tall, no need to knee
You are no slave, here you are free
Bring back the memories of your own past
Everything changes, remember what will last

And if the time comes when you are me
Think about your own tragedies
They have the same experience you had Forgive them all and don't be sad.

Concentrated

All is one, and one is this
Have to succeed, I must not miss
The thoughts are circling through my mind
Except the one, I'm going blind

Muscles flex to steady the calm
The moment comes the breath slows down
The single final word is shown
A path it opens into the dawn

The sound collapse you did not hear
The mind is empty yet very clear
There is no love there is no fear
Not something else, just being here

A chain of words that wants to score
Nothing else than to accept this law
It must be the end of what you want
Stays not behind but in the front

No awakening from your motive
It is the essence, very brief
It wants it all it wants it now
You want to have it too, I know

One moment before you realize
It is a ghost in disguise
What really underneath his clothes
Your own goal, the one you chose

This culminates to what is now
A fire burning in the snow
Stars are born and now the glow
Shows you succeeded after all.

Brisk

Let's swim through the sea
We never will know
Which treasures it has
If we don't go

The air is warm, the feeling alive
Take my hands and we dive
Into the water, into the flow

The fast pace of time
All knew what it's for Setting the scene
Of our running galore

Flying through clouds
Running through wood
There is no how Only the could

Don't stand still and move your bod
It's what we have, it's what we got
In dreams too slow, this life is mine
We all don't care if we have no time

Chaos will spring and with it the new Just jump, even if there's no clue
What you find, is us, and me and you
We run along, we will never be through

No need to rest
All the power we have Life is a test
And we are the brave

Devoted

My dearest, my only one
My respect to you
My respect to yours
My everything

Let me commence
I have to do what you want
This is what I want
This is what I chose

Saw you before, but now you are here
Never let you go, will not Only if you say
I have to go

My will and my pride
It is for you I will fight
Never let you down
I am your knight ... if you want

And if you say no
I will say yes
And if you cry for help
I will stand the test

So here is my hand
You don't need to take
Will still be here
I will not break

And if you lost in the universe
And if you lost far beyond
Just call my name
I will come to save you, my dear.

Funny

I saw a man in the trees
He was falling down
Don't you see
The tree was me

The man was hurt
But still could walk
I told him before
You don't need to talk

He tries it again
It seems at least so
You just need the pain
A believer in gods

While climbing, he requested few things
What is the length, how many rings
That's nothing to ask, there is no why
Now you will see that you cannot fly

Down he falls
Came back again
Gave not up
We don't need to be friends

At last, I let him
He was going up
Made me think
I am a tree, but he is free

Trying to walk, it rumbled the earth
And as we talked, I saw he was worth
It, so both we fell to death
And with his last breath, he said
The best tree ring dating I had.

Incompetent

Trust your instincts what is right
After all, don't need to fight
What is wrong and what is right
After all, don't need to fight

Everything goes as its planned
Got you in, now, out of hand
Feelings are just like the sand
Do not like it, but out of hand

Screwing, wrenching is all you need
Think about the kids you feed
Take a challenge, if you need
Lose it all, don't fall with grieve

Got your motive, now your goal
Is to make small into tall
After all you got it all
Isn't it your final goal

Or you try and fail at best
Another said that is your test
But you know what works here best
Just to start another test

Moving on you simply rise
Out of shadows and disguise
If you hear what should be done
You already found some other one

After time you find again
The same old lock you were never in Try another time as well
You can't take it as a fail.

Desperate

Now as the time has come
I know, nothing can be undone
I have to go, don't know what will be
I don't know, simply will see

Fear is there but need to go
Feelings now cold as the snow
Sun away, the cold wind blows
What will come, I do not know

No new ways will open up
Have to walk, I cannot stop
Worries all my thoughts have blocked
Once so happy, now out of luck

Could not find a time or space
Celebrating what now is waste
Still I sense the smell and taste
What will come I cannot face

So goodbye what has been left
Once was old, is now my best
What was large, is only less
Of what I thought that I do best

Abyss is opening before my view
What's in there I did not know
Staying inside I know best
Is the end of my all Es

Both have fought and now I lost
I am my desires' host
Brought me here, no way back
I will lose, but still will fight.

Vulnerable

I can't take even one more hit
On the brink of existence
On the edge of a knife
It cuts in both ways
But it will be always me
Does not matter anymore
Just waiting
Eventually it will come
Gave all, now nothing left
Where are my treasures
Gone for good
Standing here, even one more hit
No one to blame but myself
All to be blamed, I was innocent
Both is true
I request another dream
But the distance is too big
I trust you
And give up my control
Over me and the world
May never had it
But here it is
As else we will not be one
And not be two Nothing
But with you
I want to be something
Together
Not alone
So I am vulnerable
For you and me
Trust in you
Trust in me
As the only way
To find us
On a way
Different to the other
But still we found us
As I give it up
And cannot take even one more hit
But that is the deal
With you and me.

Tired

Lying here before the sleep
All my thoughts I have to keep
If I now will fade away
I will lose and do not stay

Different things are in my mind
Altogether makes me blind
Whispers from the other zone
Try to bring me in their home

Sentences get all too small
Can't remember after all
Where I am and what I have to do
Into my soul I bring the few

Darkness seems so sweet and fine
I drink it like expensive wine
Go to sleep, it's not a crime
Something tells me from my spine

Going up into the brain
Start to sleep, it's not insane
It's the best what you can do
Stop to think, you need to choose

Who is talking to me here
Is it something I should fear
No, too warm and soft for that
I just need to lean back

Feelings sweep over the words
These are the dreams own chords
These are the strings I hear
I leave now, perfectly clear.

Guilty

What has happened was my fault
No questions remain
The current path I did not want
Now have to live in pain

Was my fault again
No excuses need to be said
If I could turn back time
I would have done something instead

Door is shut, the key is lost
This room is empty but me
I have lost what I've got
I do not want this to see

A choice once made
Have left me without any chance
I forever will miss
The way I used here to dance

You were part of me and I was part of you
Now I don't know what to do
So be it or not
What was wrong has to be carried through

No need to scream or lay to the ground
What you do will matter not
The only thing which stays by my side
Is the thing that I had forgot

Into the dark were the forest still grows
Examples I found at the end
And what I have learned now after I'm back
That I am my only friend.

Loud

Who can stand the morning screams
Who can hear the voice
Who has thought this is a dream
Who wanted a choice

To run away what makes you shake
No one can stand next
After all the bones will break
And your body flex

Who has said the word is there
Which makes all living things
It surely can't be ever heard
As nothing it will bring

Once so tall, now you are small
Can't bear the fame
Never thought that this applause
Will drive you insane

Machines pumping oil like blood
They are not human
All is coming like a flood
In the eardrums plane

The hand is cold and hard
Not of similar kind
If you think it has a heart
You are going blind

Shakes you around and makes you sick
No chance to be the same
Hide behind the obvious scene
And take what has been claimed.

Brusque

Go away will tell no more
You don't need to hear
What I have for you in store
Is what you mostly fear

I can give you what you want
But the price you have to pay
And if you want I say again
Go the fuck away

Try with me and you get burned
I give no second chance
If you laying on the floor
I will, on you, dance

Not the same, will never be
That is the awful truth
If you really want to see
I can give you the final proof

The hand you give
I throw away
Don't need what you have got
If you say, I want to stay
Will not be enough

Persistence from you
I will accept
Even if you get through
I will put you back

I go this way, you turn around
We both should never met
But if I ever see you again
Afterwards you will be dead.

Irritated

Spinning around
There is no up and down
What will be
Never was shown

The numbers in order
But the thoughts are not clear
What's the solution
Not for me clear

Was there a wright, or was there a wrong
Can't remember where it belonged
All in my hands, runs through like sand
Quickly I grab, but alone seems I am

Trying to squeeze my way through
Out of space, into the blue
What was small, now so big Where I am, I cannot think

Straight lines once, now only curves
Was I giving a monsters birth
Try to resist and remember this
What you forgot is not what you miss

Time is short, now need to do
Cannot live without a clue
Somebody said, bubbles lead the way
But without air, I cannot say

Hence I will wait, seems I ran out of luck
The desire comes like a full loaded truck
It takes me to safety or into the dark
Whatever will happen, it will make his mark.

Deranged

So you suppose that I should believe
One is one, plus two is three
Never heard of this strange sign
Maybe it is for those who want to be blind

I go in between, whatever you say
Not sure why you want me believe in your way
Not brought you far, my impression is
Not changed my world, solitude is bliss

But you want convince me that I need to change
The truth for me is, don't want to play either your game
If you think about, you know you're insane
But without me, it is for you a lonely game

Now the mass is coming I hear them saying
Don't blame it on me, blame it on them
I don't blame anyone but you
The horror you made instead I want to be few

Go on at once, you will be saved
On the other hand, you then lost your game
Of top and bottom, who needs that idea
If nothing at all, it will bring you the fear

So one plus two I do not know
I just once heard it has to be so
From whom I don't know but it surely wasn't me
I would say, what really is three

The mother, the kid, and then comes the friend
A father will change to its promised land
Complete transformation with one node to go
You can believe it, as I said it so.

Resistance

Time nearly gone, all left is small
Is it or are you just pretending to be tall
I got from you nothing after all
Maybe, you will not be my final call

Somewhere I lost, I now see very clear
It was you, who made the anger and fear
Promised me a big bunch of lies
Everything with you just end in cries

So no more alibies
Was there, done that
Was going to be mean
Lost the track
Now I am not so clean

All your hate brought me nothing at all
Yes, you pretended to be big, but inside you are so small Can't live with you anymore, lost my friend
I will search for him, maybe he understands

You I will leave, there is nothing to be said anymore
What you showed to me is real, I know, but was not looking it for
Had your promises which turned to lies
Maybe I have not much time left, but at least I will try

There is regret, I know, in me and you
But you were getting too strong, and then it's just you
If think of me, but lost myself, as it was you
But now I know, what is me will never be all of you

I gave the seven as my voice to be heard
And somewhere else we just would be friends
But there is more, who speaks for me
The man in the mirror was the one who asked if I want to be free.

Coward

Who said I will give you the best what you want
Hide behind your desk, that's where you belong
Outside the world is the darkness we found
You couldn't see so you asked me if I want

Guiding you through, did not need to ask for
For you a wall, for me another door
Breaking in, is what I am here for
No need to knock, I will break the door

And if I repeated myself again and again
You will not find any stronger friend
I gave you what you were looking at most Need to lock away, go on, I be the host

All the words you said to me
Showed you need someone much braver than you ever gonna be
You were locked, but said you need to be free
It was your chains that locked you to me

And now, again you are in despair
You want something that you never cared
All the ones that saw to you
Saw the actuality which I brought you through

Go on with yourself I will hinder you not Let's see how much you got Inside yourself in the very soul
You may look young, but your soul is old

So running will bring you not far away
I give you a tip, better try to stay
As if they others come for you to play
They like the cowards most which run away.

Self-critical

Unanswered questions in myself
Don't look for solutions or any help
Am I just the clamp inside the shelf
Need something different to bring back the health

I looked at worlds I already knew
I wanted something, now it's through
The mind is blue but gone away
See now, it better would have staid

With me and what I lost with you
It was a lie, still not the truth
Can't seem to find were it is going to
But was my fault, I needed the new

My playthings stopped to make me laugh
I lost the trigger, nearly lost all
Where have to look, I do not know
But all what is here is just borrowed

Nothing I can claim as mine
Throwing treasures to the swine
The mud and piss I am laying in Cannot walk and cannot swim

No one to blame
But now always the same
I open my eyes
And all is too lame

Now tools I have to craft
To break the spell, to make it at last
It was my fault, I now know for sure
But in my hands is also the cure.

Two ways but one only to go
The one with sun, the one with snow
The forest dark behind my back
Once was green but turned to black

No sign which I could understand
Do I need guidance, a helping hand
What was the water, now its sand
I ask for answers, I need a friend

But none is here, I am alone
And what I see, is not my own
It is the others who make me fear
Not one wrong step but don't see clear

There is too much what goes around
I cannot see and can't be found
Even if possible I realize
They don't speak truth, they speak but lies

I turned around, now I don't know
No guiding light which shows me how
To bring the mind outside the cloud

Now sitting here, don't have a clue
Did I lost me, did I lost you
What I said, maybe not true
What I've done, brought up too few

Standing, sitting, running wild
What should you do if you are blind
If you are one of my kind
Search for me and you will find.

Childish

What you think as No, is a Yes for me
You seem to be blind, but I can see
The treasures you have are dirt
Your world seems to be just a sum of words

I go when I want, there is so much out there
My life is a dream, but yours's a nightmare
You think it is the opposite for you
But looking in your eyes I see the blue

The fighting you have
The ghosts that you chase
The lies you believed
It put you to grieve

For me it is play
There are no two ways
I have all I got
Don't need to be lot

A heaven opens for me
But in hell you will be
Don't say it's not your fault
No, you are not too old

The game needs to be played
It opens the gate
Even if you will fall
There is no floor after all

Childish you said
But you fall into grey
For me, my world is the best

Burden

I have to walk with you
So it seems
Why this load on my shoulder
Are these my sins

Can't forget you
Need to take care
Can't accept you
You always stare

The moment I feel
You come along the way
You're not real
Still you make me your slave

I fight with you
You disappear
Soon after victory
You step out of the blue

Tried to live with But simply can't
You show me directions
But they don't lead to the Promised Land

What you said
You say again
You are my enemy
Not my friend

Still closer to me than anything, I push you away
You come back to me
But there is hope, I know for sure
These lines of thought, will give the cure.

Courageous

The jump into the abyss
The moment before the first step
The heart starts to beat
The feelings want to flee

The body in motion
Full of devotion
To the goal you have set
There is no turning back

In the fire we burn
From the fire we return
Courageous and free
That's how it should be

No time to regret
The target you have set
Far beyond your capabilities
But solitude is bliss

In the moment when it is done
That is the moment when you have won
Being part of time, like a son
Not the father but now a closer one

To eternity and beyond
The brave cannot be stopped
Looking back now
You understand the how

As you see yourself
You don't want to be somebody else
You are the new one
And it starts making a lot of fun.

Cooperative

The laws of nature are your friend
They do and help you as they can Cooperative to the roots
You just have to know the how it to do

Instead the men is quick in turns
It sometimes gives but always burns
A trust is broken too easily
So trust in nature and let yourself free

One hand gives another hand
Is this how it should be seen
A circle to be a cage
Where I am within

Maybe too negative after all
Into light speed, but you need halt
Gave one in time, after a life
Came back home, but did not arrived

Now that we said it
We are out of the shadows
One little turn, lost all the clothes
Still they fit

Clockwork like, who put it there
Don't know their work, now pretty scared
Reason far beyond my sense
But anyway have to commence

We can go now far beyond we could before
But after all, we are not so pretty now
Gained long life, but lost the time
Seems I cannot remember here who the fuck I am.

Heaven

They said heaven was made for two
So alone when not having you
By my side, I lost my way
Is it wrong that I want you to stay

You cannot take it anymore
But this is what heaven's for
A cold spine ache of dreams
Nothing really is at it seems

A look behind the curtains
Will show how the world is
An empty space with empty souls
Lost all the senses and out of control

But that is what it used to be
One big fucking reminder of my lost memory
In the back of my head it was
But as I said, all of it got somehow lost

Going back now were heaven was
I came across the cross
The mutilated and the pain
Cannot think straight, makes me insane

But then again, what have I thought
After everything that I have got
No surprises anymore
Electricity just got us bored

No miracles of it to tell
There is no heaven here, nor hell
It something different I cannot accept
I step down one ladder, without regret.

Enchanted

What a wonderful wonderful world it is Can't happen that there is something else like this
The play is beautiful just as it is Can't believe the world can be as it is

A round and round, spinning through time
What once he had, now it's mine
And afterwards it will be yours
I don't insist, it will be your door

Don't think it should be any other way
I go along and you will stay
I see the brightness every day
Hope you see it too, when I fade away

Smile on me, I love you so
What else the day brings, I don't know
But here it's best, it's what I saw Bring back the memories I once have known

Give you my hand, you trust in me
I will save you as long I will be
In here and with you as you wish
Don't think now here that solitude is bliss

And even if I am alone
I will reap what I have sown
And when you enough have grown
I leave the world, now you alone

Find someone else that you will love
I will it see from high above
I'm so happy as you are my own
We stay together, sometimes will be your sun.

Blithsome

Happy to see me, were I came from
I don't know who you are and if you want some Can't resist I needed to look at the sun Turned away I wanted become

Now I am here I saw now all
Forgive me to ask, but I knew how to install
The traps and tears will surely not fall
As I am here becoming incredible tall

Seeing all now I have to tell you
What we have here we want not to undo
Everything's fine, please try to think it through Going out is not going into

Now jump above, don't need to feel dirt
I tell you something, you haven't heard
All is all, that is just one start
Don't think you are just another part

All in all, you get me now
Turn grieve to smile, it need to know
If you can make the transformation you need
Start to laugh, you need to believe

If you look above you can see your own face
Leave a mark, not another trace
Try some other things you believed
Better create than being a thief

And if you are make sure that it counts
You don't need borders, you don't need bounds
Don't stay still, try to make sounds
With you as legend of the round.

Constructive

So you hate the world and you want to die
Or you love it and want to live
You may think something in between
Or something different I have never seen

The world is big, so is the universe
A small point on it they say is you
What does it matter anyway
Just change to something new

There is the truth there is the lie
You can't tell what's wrong
Maybe just that you should try
How to sing your perfect song

And in this sound you may then hear
What speaks in you so loud and clear
You hear it all the time, you know
But you are distracted from the crowd

Go into mountains where the caves are large
Sit alone and think some more
You heard too much from others now
You need to find something too far

After some time you get then bored
Just wait a little more
And if you feel the pass of time
You also find your door

Take the treasure into your heart
And close it against the foe
And if you find the love you want
You will know what it was for.

Idle

Idle all the words we make Idle all the stars
Idle all we want to have Idle all these marks

Goes up so high but can't track the score
Don't know what to say
If we say one sentence more
It wouldn't matter anyway

Idle are these hands we have Idle all the walks
Idle also to be brave
Idle all the talks

Idle to be here on earth
Idle dying here
Idle that we gave birth
Idle that we fear

Idle is mind and all
Idle that it counts
Idle that it makes it clear
Idle what us haunts

Idle is the truth we know
Idle is the lack Idle also a heart that hopes
Idle if lost the track

Idle is the idleness
Idle makes us whole
Idle that will focus us
Idle from what we were born.

Perplexed

Suddenly the world has changed
Turned into a sinister game
Wanted to be here for the fame
But now these things seem pretty lame

Was thinking the formula has worked
But seems I was a dork
Did not see where it was coming from Anyway, no need to have a crown

Digging in the dirt
Where treasures are hidden
Sure it will hurt
But it's not forbidden

Where am I now
Seems everything has changed
Nothing works the way as before
Because of the fame

Stuttering on things we don't know
But it is here and has something in store
Something different now part of me
Don't know why but it seems it has to be

Now lost with the tools used before
A new dawn, will be hardcore
Like the thing I have now seen
Can't be the same I have been

The circle closes back again
Was it an enemy or was it a friend
It's gone I know but still is here
Haunting me, until it's clear.

Busy

Has to go
Has to run
Need the flow
Need to be done

Hit's your heart, you bleed to death
Cannot stop, can't catch a breath
Move without mind, faster than a shotgun
You are in the back, but you want to be upfront

More you think, slower you are
You so near, but you need to be far Away the goal, don't need a reason for
If you can't do everything, you lost the cause

Like Alice in Wonderland this tale
If you not move fast enough you will fail
To stay on the same place, no change
If you stop, you increase the range

Bored with you need entertainment
Nothing in you, so you can't find Search outside your mind
Nothing, you are against the time

No rest, no sleep, you are on the run
Running, running, running from Yourself, the others or something else
What you are running from I cannot tell

But keeps you busy, don't need to think
There is a network, but you don't know the links
Is there and disappears within a blink
Is it real, what do you think

The needle in your eye hurts too much
Pretend it's not there, just a part
Of the plan you created once you suffered
But with this speed everything gets blurred.

Stubborn

The new ideas sprinkle like stars
How great they are, will never be yours
Want you to a different course
If not by love than by brutal force

Get away, don't need you here
Better that you disappear
There is nothing that I fear
If I know that my path is clear

Words are just like arguments
Don't do good, they just pretend
Are my enemies, not my friend
Stay with decisions till the end

Even if it is true
That I will not make it through
Your ideas will be different to me
Even I'm blind, this I can see

Decisions are made, now is the time
What has been said, will now be done
There is not anything or anyone
Who make my word I said undone

And what was chaos once for me
Now something different it was used to be
Will cause a smaller path to go
I will not change, I told you so

So go away who is not with me
My decision made me free
Even wrong, you do not know
Will not be weak, I will be strong.

Satisfied

There is no time were you can say you made it
But there is a time were you know how it would fit
The way to get this notion of satisfaction
Is to believe in something like the gut reaction

Believe it or not, the choice yours
Stay in the dirt, or live in the stars
Or just look at it and think about the top
Don't need anything, maybe some luck

The dynamics are the thing which you need to control
To have a healthy body and a healthy soul
Don't think what you think is thinking like a fool
Don't need to stay calm, just try to stay cool

What has been done, does not matter for you anymore
Everything needed to be done, so you know what you came for Better is everything than being too bored
You found something, now try to make the score

In this struggle for self you will see
Your live is something like an old tree
Tried to get close to the sun
Not one branch but many of arms

Choice which way you want to go
The target is clear, now go with this flow
Maybe failure, maybe you reaching the goal
Anyway, only real way is through your soul

You know, you done it, this was the right choice
And it would say yes, if it would have a voice
Your inner self knows this was the right way
Even if everybody else said, it would have been better for you to stay.

In the flow

No need to fight against
There is no enemy, just a friend
It takes you and drifts you away
No problem if you have to go or stay

There is only acceptance
It is the essence
For peace of mind
This is what you only need to find

You know it now
You let it go
You don't know how
You need it all

No fight against what needs to be
No fight against, what brings you to your knees
Everything should get everything it wants
If all has left, nothing can haunt

Naked as you are
You finally can see your star
The goal you set and only for you
It's in your reach, you will be new

Drift, drift my friend, no need to fight
Here it's dark, but there is light
Be the bravest of all knights
Body and soul will reunite

Now it's warm you have it done
Now you are a heaven's son
Hell may be what you live in
But you stopped burning from the other sins.

Contemplative

My world is within
My world has no sins
If it's there I will confess
What you think, I couldn't care less

If I am careless than you told me so
Being with you gets me out of my flow
By here within alone
I stronger than metal, stronger than stone

As I am what I am
No need to say more
The dreams I had made my heart so sore
But not anymore

The incredible loud has no meaning here
What the outside made, it made these fears
But now for me it seems very clear
Inside me, don't need to shed tears

So I bring down my blood
No need to rush
For all that it's worth
Won't let lose my touch

So I sing this song inside my head
I lay my head on this rusty bed
All the things I can't forget
Finally, don't make me sad

With the sounds away, the words vanish
Yes, you could call me clannish
I found something else what the world want me to be
And this put my life out of all misery.

No Supervision

I have my dreams and you have yours
We share some things that you ignore
You go through walls, I go through doors
Don't know what actually you adore

There is no we, there is no us
There is now group, there is no class
There is no black, there is no white
It's not too loose, it's not too tight

Achievements written on paper
Can you smell the vapor
Its ink and wood and something else
What it is I will not tell

Start again your spinning
If I lose, you're winning
If I win, you're thinking
Slaves have started the killing

But all is as it always used to be
Reminder of what you used to be for me
Now that I don't want you to see Everything's stuck like in concrete

Still around but no control
I don't want it, after all
Do what you need and have to do
Will not stop you, let you through

At the end I hope for us
Something big came out at last
This is the test I want to make Either way, it's no mistake.

Grouchy

Don't think I am a debutant
If I not can do now what I want
First option first, I stop right here
Forget what I might eventually fear

All this preparation
And now without hesitation
Everything would have fit perfect
But it stopped, was it worth it

I ask myself, and blood runs hot
Why did I, easy, forgot
Now I know, this makes me bad
That I even at least once tried

It to do, no problem at all
Just walk back these halls
Where I was coming from Sit down again on my throne

Look over the world, just as you
Nothing matters, nothing to do
This was the time, now it's gone
Nothing else would have need to be done

Just not my fault, was not the one who sent Either way, all this reality can't be bent
Who else than myself I defend
I was ready, but the world is always an accident

Just will wait, maybe something else will come
What has happened, maybe can be undone
It was the child of morning, seems like the first sun
It was no work once, but now it is even no fun.

Sympathetically

I know your struggles, but you are too hard on yourself
Keeping destroying you will also not gonna help
You have to see that everything is not your fault
That you need to understand before your final fall

What you have done and what you will do
It will never be original will never be new Thousands of you tried it before
You want something, but you can't get more

Seeing that will let you get around your past
You've got so much but you didn't asked
Same for all others, nice to see
That everybody else could be, in principle, me

So dance your dance, looks incredible
If it's nothing worth, at least it is valuable
A code you run, and why not Just need the story, not the plot

And if you feel alone I can dance with you for a while Don't know the moves, but I know the style
You are great, and after a while
You will feel great too, this is not a trial

Don't be too hard on yourself, need to say it twice
It is like a coin, my advice
Whatever will happen, remember it's not your fault
You are a part and therefore all

And all is not you and this goes with everyone else
Crying, screaming will not help
And why should it after all
You are perfect, now it's your call.

Sovereign

Like kids we playing in the garden
Our thoughts we keep from being harmed
The feelings sowed like seeds on a farm
Now we are within still so warm

What they said we did not hear
What they wanted is to make fear
All the news were so unclear
Don't want to shed for this not one more tear

Left alone what I had known
Before dying here I want us born
There was no fire, was no storm
Lies they told and we were strong

Said, o.k., I take what you have said
Made now I see I need to regret
What I made was making me sad
No time to sleep, there was no bed

But all red roses came to me
After I started not to see

I don't dream their dreams today
And also tomorrow I will save the day
To live the life I have to choose
So do it now, or else you lose

The mind now free again
No chains around the hands
Fire burning through the soul
Still thousand demons, will kill them all.

Relaxed

The one who knows what drives the earth
Knows also what we deserve
A blank space was given to him
Representing the first and his last sin

Takes it and makes an airplane
A sin transformed, drives him insane
In chaos he sees what went so wrong
He heard a war, but it was a song

Could not care less about what others think
The feelings of all others into the sink
The black whole which swallows what it gets There's no remorse and no regrets

Now he walks the walk
He plays the game
He spins around
No one to blame

Tried to change it once
It did not worked
Dark smoke into the lungs
Felt good but it also hurt

Seeing good and evil
He can say what is right or wrong
Everything blurred
But he sees behind the dawn

A new day will come and that is for sure
There is a poison for this cure
It is a present and looks so nice
But when you open it, you'd be surprised

Free

Once we all were animals
We could not think three seconds ahead
There may have been some rational
But all of them seemed to be sleeping or dead

A word was not invented yet
We did not know the alphabet
For all the things we saw
We just enjoyed the show

Was not bad at all
Was not sad at all
Everything weird
But also not feared

Tragedies came and go
We didn't need to know
Before the sun went down
We found another one

Chains were built, for sure
We looked, but did not find a cure
At some point we knew
There must be something new

A house to live in A chair to sit
A table to eat
An oven to heat

We have it now
But our hearts do not glow
Anymore, once we were free
Again, we will see

Calm

All words said, all things done
Lying in the bed, everything so calm
Preparing for the end
What has it been for, I ask you my friend

No turning back, time is up
No regrets, no remorse
You simple follow the course

Of everything which was and everything which will be Am I too blind to simply see
The truth of all in front of me
What we are is not what we used to be

And should not
That is what the world tells
Even if you don't like it that well
There is nothing to buy and nothing to sell

Going in and going out
Does not make any difference now
At one end the new at the other the dead
This is our story this is our fate

And if you look far away
You see how you are born in another day
After myriads of time we will see us again
There is always the beginning after the end

Just too short it seems to be
Now in chains but soon be free
A question we relate to anyone else
When it happens to us, you never can tell.

Good

And if you rule
Don't get fooled
Treasures you may find
But you lose peace of mind

And if dreams come true
But it is not you
Who dreamed of one
You didn't won

And if good happens to you
Ask yourself if it is not too good to be true
And if bad happens to you
Ask yourself if it is not for a better new

As a good man it was said
Is the one who's fate fade away
Who changed coordinates
Who saw different fates

A good man it was said
Will not go away
Will stay here
And disappear

A good man as a good man, wanted to believe
If the man had to say
All I wanted is to leave
The wrong way

Back to you is good
Maybe only too few
But it is your mood
If you could you would.

Ripe

Somehow the time has passed
Now it is full
Glass of wine
Everything will not last

Time is now
Can't bear the delay
If I know
I would run away

The apple
Symbols of sin
Eden was once
But earth is now

Will fall
The destiny is clear
Where it gonna land
Will not be here

To stop
When highest above
Climb up, fall down
Should we laugh

Your hand can take Away the abyss
A simple kiss
Is all we need

Nature and love
In one spot
All of the above
More than cold, more than hot

Happy

Beyond the fear, succeeded to hold on
After all the news, we can go back where we are coming from Few questions, important for the path
What was built, was meant to last

All paths going along the way
Only on one we need to stay
It is the path of happiness
We did once, but now fear less

The trees as big as our story
No one can see the details anymore
Wanted to go where no anger is
We found more, found hope and bliss

What will come in a few seconds an hour or a day
We will not mind, as now we stay happy
A fight is one, a war goes on, it is the way it is
But don't forget again, our solitude is bliss

So stay the same or change it now
The door is open no need to choose from how Your inner selves converged to you
No failure here, the word is true

Like the sun in summertime
The cold is gone you feeling fine
Could have been horror, could have been tragedy at all
But now we stay so very tall

And don't say stop or move to fast
The thing will stay not far the past
Open your eyes and try to see
This moment now, you are so free.

Joyful

Get glitter in my hair
People start to stare
At me, myself and I
Seems I'm on fire

Got roses on the bed
Everything's not sad
Truth has won in us
We are like the stars

The demons disappeared
We don't need to fear
Joyful we will sing
That we gonna win

Bad has past the day
Don't we look to stay
Going on with pride
Nothing we need to hide

The right was done before the wrong
In this we feel so strong
In this we feel so good
Our heart's like in our youth

A song we made to sing
No more time for sins
No more time for everything else
Than give another help

We have made it happen
No more corruption
No more lies and tears
We will not disappear.

Enchanted

Heard the good news before
Can't ask for much more
This is what we wanted now
An arrow and a bow

To the star of our dream
Nothing in between
Than distance needed to be walked
In the meantime we have talked

It's here, past, future, thank you we say
We hoped for it, we had saved
We jumped, we walked, we stayed
And reward we will get

Nice surprise, world is different somehow
Was it luck or did we allowed
We take it for real no questions to be asked
Finally, achieved our main task

Out of the world
Out of space, indeed
All that we need
Is a place we can keep

In our hearts it is placed
Do not need to be raced
Stand still and we move
It is one hell of a groove

In the surprise
It is nice
We got the life
Inside the vibe.

Fascinated

The way of life seems to be curled
Beyond the meaning of a simple word
It's so real we stuck in here
Before we know we disappear

The goal we have
One truth to save
From the abyss
This is our kiss

To the world
The way we see Fascinating not to be Back and forth within the sea

Deep, deep the dark water lurks
Found us, find them
Broken chains in broken souls
Not speaking of humans but of it all

Laws speak
Made by men
Will not stand
On the peak

One full round
Be back again
One truth as friend
Enough found

On to the next
Simple as this Complexity in the text
Of mothers hand or fist.

Loud

Voices in our head
Coming from the dead
Lost something long ago
Missing, still it grows

From one moment to the other
You realize who was your father
You see then who was your mother
Bursting out, where is my brother

The thing you called yourself
Long time it hides in the shelf
But now it is here and demands your doom
It's not coming now, but very soon

The scream you hear comes from your voice
Once you had a chance, now you have no choice
It is loud and very clear
What need to be loved, now has to be feared

Was so simple but now a mess
First step is, just confess
The wrong you did, the mistake you made
When you sold your love for hate

You've got something for this trade
The market sings, long live the hate
Look what is in for all the fate
Who broke his soul, break all his brakes

No more thoughts within this scream
The dreams have gone, gone with the wind
In sea of waves, you cannot swim
You have your ears, but no more use of them.

Poison

A trick was made, and it was this
Take something in, and change the bliss
Don't make it strong, don't make it weak
Important is that they don't see

If they feel bad, tell them some lies
If they feel sick, say energized
In their bed when they will fade
Their soul is lost and we survived

We are not different to them all
Just different objectives before the fall
It is just us, don't be so small
Even a poison wants to be tall

In your blood we feel secure
Don't want less, we want soo much more
There is the board, will make the score
Need to win, break in the door

Here we am, and we will stay
Forget your hopes and start to pray
We are here so we can play
All the things for your decay

Maybe you never realize
That we are here in disguise
Don't get suspicious is our goal
You should not win, you need to fall

Best thing is you are busy all day
All feelings just a ball of clay
You don't say
But we will make you delay.

Exasperated

Yes, I did it but now have to wait
I already knew what will be the fate
Too much talk and too much to be said
Will make everything again delayed

There is above and down below
No talk between just words to show
Of something else what is behind
The back is usually the blind

Thousands of goals but better not here
What is to do will end in rehear
Last mile longest, all they say
Rather the truth, they want delays

So wait and wait and wait again
A never ending long long train
So much worth, but all in vain
At the end it's not the same

Forget it what was it all about
Start anew with less big clouds
Creation will be self assured
However, also never be heard

Back in the mind where it can stay
Don't need to have my dreams betrayed
I said, reality is the one delayed
Dreaming, dreamining in my bed

All is now clear within my head
It is just that it soon will fade
I hope I will not start to hate
But seems it is already too late.

Shrill

Go to the top
The golden seal to see
A secret to feel
Many waterdrops

Pouring down
The lake to the sea
The river with ponds
Like you drink tea

Miracles you can touch
Nothing too much
Brown bag silver chairs
Sitting down in Lairs

Dragons who sleep on the gold
The bell rings, but we are on hold Fast, stand up give it a try just watching and saying goodbye

On the knees up to the knife
Will cut deep, like the life
Boredom instead
Will soon fade away

Now, now, let's run up there
No need to be scared
No need to feel fear
The way is so clear

But wait, wait, but don't do it too late
Standing here will be ones fate
The head on the plate
We know, we know, still only one state.

Sluggish

The body feels a ton today
I cannot move it anyway
The thoughts of you run through my mind
Once I saw but now I'm blind

My feet below, the head on rest
Whatever question, can't pass the test
If I can sleep, will gonna rest
Everything here just a big mess

So thirsty feel the hunger inside
Where I am I cannot hide
Going through the other side
No sun shines, always the night

Eyes above they cannot roll
Once so big, now very small
Far behind and near with us
The sun is burning like all the stars

Need to get up but there's no way
Everything seems here will fade
If I could, would make the trade
On the other hand, promises we made

Soon I lie in my own sweat
What I want I will not get Hoped for that we will have met
But future past and past forget

Like a street I lost my way
Should I go or should I stay
With the others I won't play
But not to move I have the strength.

Torn

You may think that one is two
But the truth is I'm not you
You not me, also a fact
Torn apart, pretend to act

Theaters will hear us both
It is not hate, it is for love
All the things you never saw
I become to be your door

Step inside and shut it tight
This will end without a fight
Both are you and you is all
No start, no end, just like a ball

The dance of us will not be here
If we both have different shares
Unequal makes the world go round
There is no end, there is no bound

So walk until eternity
Need to find the other key
Was once one, but now just half
It needed to find what I still love

And when I find I fear will see
It is something I used to be
It was not mine, I was not yours
The truth is only behind closed doors

Walking around I ask myself
So one is two and two will help
Torned and broken is what we are
All is not near, all are too far.

Mechanical

One on one is two
Do the things you have to do
Three will tell you how Will get you sour

Going back and forth
Don't know if it is worth
Someone said to you
But why, you have no clue

Everyday the same
Don't know who to blame
In the line you stand
Waiting for your end

Gifts are brought someday
Don't know anything at all
Something big, but you are small

A Machine within
Don't know where to begin
Also where is the end
Your life you cannot defend

It's not you and him
Obeying is not a sin
It is what you are for Nothing else in store

Somewhere far far away
Something lives the day
And doesn't know about you
Just a piece which he can see through.

Hungry

A black whole swallows all
Can be short, it can be tall
Can be something which needs to fall
It does not care, edges and balls

Drives the machine what needs to be done
If all is many, still it is the one
Don't need to know where you are coming from Its desires just want some

Makes you drive too, makes you run
Is it a nightmare, or just your home
Whatever it is you have to do
The final word comes not from you

Your look so hungry it makes you scared
The others think you are prepared
But you just want to bring it in
Does not matter if you lose or win

From start to finish all the same
All experience for you is lame
If you are nothing or got some fame
All you want, that is your claim

Wandering along the road
Roaming as it has been told Infinity the bottom whole
One big mouth your very soul

As time has passed, history may say
Such a great man, so very gay
Full of ideas, bright like a day
But hunger never went away.

Communicative

If words are lost, still can be found
Another one will make you strong
Tell him your worries and fears you have
He makes you help, it make you brave

The flow will come, you swim again
No need for enemies, just find a friend
What's deep inside, will come above
You find your will, you find your love

Between you two, or three or more
You find what you are looking for Sentences will make the world again
No need for hate, no need for pain

A world constructed, letters of joy
A brave new place, full of new toys
We take ourselves and make us new
We make us whole, we're not too few

The bounds will deepen, chains will be
We get new eyes, we start to see
Together, all, we make what we can
Coming to you, like a big train

Take you away, new places to be
One piece of a new family
Try to understand what all will say
New secrets revealed in a surprising new way

Talk, talk, talk till you understand
Give each one a helping hand
What can be said, should be said right now
The danger is to wait too long

Reville

So you get what you want
But then you realize
The price to be paid
He made no compromise

A fight needed to be
But you gave up long ago
No target for you
Just go with the flow

Was not your water you were swimming in Something else you were drifting
But now you see the truth
You lost something which you had in your youth

That makes you think
For sure it is right what you did
But than again
Is it now just like a dream

Where your feelings move with the scene
A strong word makes you shiver within
No walls inside you anymore
Only need to step in as you are only doors

Like you are nothing
But something you wanted to be Without knowing what
Your fate was being too blind for it to see

A dream it was and now a dream are you
Nothing solid just like fluid and a kind of glue
A between, just there but not really here
What you are now, is what you have feared.

Revenge

So you gave up what you have been
There will be revenge
From me we will see
From you that's for sure

Your identity lost
But you had it once
Oh why, I am asking
Gave up what you needed to trust

But revenge will come
I will say it one more time
So you can hear it clear
There will be no escape from what you fear

Strong it seems, but weak it is Isolation is its bliss
Need to earn it, was your choice
But you were silent, you lost your voice

But there will be revenge
You become your own enemy
Probably not now, but soon you will see
The highest price you have to pay, is losing me

So go, I won't stop you
Love cannot be shared
I am here as one
But you are too scared

You are nothing, but once you was something
You feared too much
You didn't thought we were strong
So bye bye and move along forever alone.

Painful

What have I taught you
Did you forgot
The most important thing in life
Is to not give it up

The fire is here only once
Starting with your life
Make it disappear
There is no chance to survive

You become someone else
You do not know who you are
You betray yourself more and more
And at the end you are only scares

Painful your life
Much more than your body hurts
To have nothing worth
Regrettably, it lurks

Nothing to bring it back
Like a love you lost because of one wrong word
You did not said
Or did and betrayed

The soul speaks through your skin
Tells you what was wrong
In tones you misinterpret as a special tone
But it was a sin, don't you think

Now it is behind you anytime
You were thinking it was wine
But it is poison without the heat
Just wait a little bit longer and you will clearly see.

Anger

For centuries it has been told
What is not young, has to be old
A circle crosses only once
The end, a start, it is a chance

Of fire that will walk with us
It is within not in the stars
Could be found but is not here
Anger bound within the fear

Rage, rage against the light
But it's no use, you cannot fight
The fate that lies beyond your world
Is one straight line, for you it's curled

So run, and run, till breath is short
Decisions made, an unknown court
Punish the one who is not all
He is not big, but very small

Verdict is made on what we will think
It is the blood we have to drink
To be what we have else to be
To know the truth, you have to see

On chains we live and then we die
There is no answer, don't ask us why
What has been told, it is a lie
But anyway, it is your try

Enemy

She said, he had a hard life
Was not his family, was not his wife
Was not the man, the kids, or you
It was the knowledge of the truth

Once lived well, once was happy enough
But wanted to meet her, to know the path
Once he knew, he knew it well
Don't know it what, so cannot tell

His enemy became she
His enemy became me
His enemy became you
His enemy was finally the truth

Don't want to see anymore
Don't want to hear anymore
Don't want to feel anymore
Don't know what living for

The answer cursed
The answer made everything worse
The answer caused fever in his soul
The answer made all out of control

Now he knew who he really was
Now he knew what was the cause
Now he stood strong and tall and brave
Now he fell into the truth, the enemy, his grave.

Friendly

I am the one you can trust the most Far away or very close
Give you advice on what you ask
Speak the truth, don't wear a mask

If uncomfortable, will leave you alone
Abandoned places or at home
Staying her or if you roam
I'm not there were you are from

Keep you save, and keep you warm
The words of wisdom will be born
Of friendliness that we will share
I will be save, if you will care

Music like the way we talk
No need to stand, we simply walk
And find what we like used to be
Not as slaves, but ones who are free

Keep track of you and you of me
Stand so strong, like one large tree
Waves transcend into the soul
Now understand it after all

New worlds are born because of us
Was not much, but full of trust
Still more than enough what needed to be
To break the chains, to set us free

Surprised

Standing back behind the door
One deep breath, don't know what for Remember now, you want to see
Right into another reality

Through you are, the room is closed
Looks like the other side of those
That called the blind but you know well
What can't be said, is hard to tell

Is it you or is it me
What he is talking, I cannot see
What I have seen, he does not speak
About the strangest, he is me

A loop it seems, the shades in gray
What was me, now fade away
Can't take much more, can't bear to stay
He was me, so I betrayed

The questions do not find an end
This room seems empty but it bends
Breaks the back and breaks the bones
After all, I'm not alone

Close the door, surprise I hear
It was you that you have feared
Now it all seems so damn clear
But can't go back, it has disappeared

Thankful

All dreams disappear
Before you I start to fear
The words that you speak
The secrets I have to keep

But you went away
Don't need it to say
Don't need to stay
You don't need to be brave

Passage of time
What was yours, is now mine
Searched but could not find
Don't want to stay blind

One step so close to you
But you don't knew
Went to another one
No one knows from where you coming from

Places to be Places to see
Without you
Everything blue

But with a certain you
Still all will be blue
A trajectory to pass
Ain't gonna last

So here we are
Don't know how far
It is we have to go
But you will show.

Gentle

Pedals open, still feel offended
One soft touch that never ended
Was it worth what you have defended
No words of use you need to bend it

Whispers, like wind in the sky
They talk with you but don't know why
Asking for an alibi
The final word still like a lie

The dreams came through
Out of the blue
Once you have seen, but now they are gone
Like cats in water they are thrown

A cry we think, but what do we know
Emptiness has not been shown
Once you thought you had the crown
But instead now you are all alone

Breezes, breezes in the sky
Twice again, you don't know why
If you knew, you soon will die
Does not help if you now cry

Gentle has to be the word
One big word that was never heard
Now fly away just like a bird
May take a look under the skirt.

Sunny

A ray of light
Fast enough for us
No fight
It is the just

A space or time
We do not know
Both are fine
Both will glow

In our heart
In our soul
In our art
For our goal

Across the globe
Will stand at all
A kaleidoscope
Of our fall

What goes down goes up
The sun will tell
There is no trap
There is no hell

This is just me
I am all long before
Don't need to flee
There's more in store

A door that opens up the key
Will take you with me if you like
But only once, there is no try.

Slow

A next step
You ask me
No answer
Another key

Too short
To know
A port
For those

Now move
Can't be
The youth
A dream

Where to begin
Oh, where to end
The beginning a sin
But need to defend

Who is you and who are we
Together we are like one big tree
Tall and strong but cannot walk
So much dynamics but only talk

That was it
One jump to reach
Now back in peach
Seems not to fit

Too slow
Too slow
The reason
Waiting for another season, ... to pass.

Touch

Incredible but true
The touch like glue
No way to go
So go with the flow

Fast forward, stop, replay
You think you move, but you still stay
A touch of something else but me
Keeps you here, you are not free

Obey, even if you did not want to
The touch convinces the me and you
Separated before, now not a two
A one will be when we are through

Nightmare or sweet dream
Both it seems
One day these and one way those
Your body transforms like rose

Full of spikes and misery
What I have been is not like me
The dark is here comes suddenly
One big lock or one big key

Long tongues it seems
We all know what it brings
A touch so soft and strong
To bring it along

Can't get this picture out of my head
Tried to forget but it stayed
What else is there I do not know
The thoughts are like snow.

Indeep

Luxury, the place without faces
A room which spans the universe
Thoughts that face the places
Seeing things you never heard

From one end to another
The sentences unfold
While the one is your brother
The other will stay untold

Flying, like in your dreams
Control is beyond your reach
Nothing is like it seems
Your fences you have to breach

Electric feelings give the summary
A network once to be told Processes that will not be Stayed frosty, like in the cold

Building the buildings
So damn weak they seem to be
How can they be strong
Knowledge will be the key

The new will emerge
You see it already but still far away
No need now to search
Just go there and it will stay

King and creator
The new is now your friend
Indeed you were there
Succeeded at the very end.

Part of

One down and two below
What we are I do not know
What I am I'm pretty sure
For the above there is no cure

Poison running through my veins
Destroys the ease, destroys the pain
Coming by like a big train
When it's gone, it starts to rain

Words go by I understood
Feelings are something like food
Without dying, with it hurts
Try to fly just like the birds

It gives a hand and I have to take
A chain of bodies that someone made
Without them I surely break
But with them too will going to fade

Two miles more we going for Something else will make us bored
Not around but in the core
We can stand against the floor

Space between but still connects Wait we learned we don't forget
Soon will make me fully regret
The things I promised but did neglect

So one body it was told
The laws they gave are very old
Can't see where they were coming from
But surely from a heart of stone.

Sociable

One is too small, I think all the time
Being with others is like drinking good wine
A joy, a feast, the one closest to the heart
One to be whole, not only a part

The danger too large, for me all alone
Need all the others, to be strong like a stone
I feel at best when all is so close
With friends that I know, together we rose

A whirlwind we create
Not to be seen
This is our fate
Not seen within

Are the weak the looniest
One may ask them one day
Just our nature, no other way
This make us stay, they say

A bet we took, a bet we made
Give up the one, to be never afraid
A group we will be, seen as one
So damn weak, but now so strong

But what we do, I do not know
Where I want, I cannot go
Going fast or going slow
Cannot stand, need to go with the flow

A trade made, a trade we think
But it is our blood we all have to drink
We may survive, and that is good
But nobody cares what is my mood.

Flexible

We can go this or that way
Both will fit our needs
Our desires we need to feed
The casket like a tray

One arm to the other
The feet to the ground
Up the air, can't go further
The painful sounds

Bending the steel
Bending the world
Bending to heal
To find the pearl

Treasure, treasure, what will you be Surely take me out of the misery
Will do what I want, don't need to be seen
And with this task I will always win

No body and only soul
Took out the wall
Whoever makes the call
Either too big, or too small

Will take it, will make it
No need to rest
Like in a snake pit
I want to pass this test

We are flexible
We are rubber like
No need to fight
We are edible.

Nice

Simple handshakes make me think
Is it all that fortune brings
Can it be its plain like that Going on where people lack

True I know the heart of youths
Speak in language, speaks as truth
But you know I saw it too
The chainsaw hacks also through you

Don't do no harm
I know the score
Like a farm
I plant for more

What comes out
I sow before
Yielded nothing
Yielded no more

Still the energy remains
Is no lust, it gives no pain
What I once had needed to claim
Far away now, don't know its name

Have a plan but don't know it now
Make another but don't know how
Just a smile may be enough
Even if the world gets tough

Forget everything to be so nice
Forget the memories and lies
Forgot the chances and the tries
Forgot everything, but to be nice.

Without Rush

Time is passing, let it go
Wait for something you don't know
The test is now but will you pass
Time collapsing, nothing lasts

Relaxed but shacking like a dog
Nothing is there if time's that slow
Fogs and darkness follows the glow
Once stood tall but now so small

Why the question aching me
Not the one I used to be
Don't need to be I think down here
What I was has disappeared

Let sun shine and water rain
Everything is not in vain
With the time you have right now
Everything can be built somehow

Creators and ghosts in the machine
They fought the war but did they win
Were to end and were to begin
Start anew without a sin

And if I fail and have to fall
It does not matter after all
What will come I cannot tell
But make sure now it is not hell

Go with me this slow road
You will not be bored
You will find here peace
Heaven can be found with such ease.

Waiting

Once there was a goal
Once I waited to happen
Now I am bold
Now I gave up all my settings

Gave up the wish
Gave up the call
Gave up the everything
That's all

No rules to obey
But still I'm yours
Need to be claimed
Not anymore

Gave up the truth
Gave up the lies
Gave up what I called alibis
That is my proof

Nirvana like
Your walls will stay
Not be betrayed
Our fight

Dripping of time
Only see the sand running
Only see the hunting
It is not mine

I will wait
No time to waste
I will wait
No need for haste.

In the zone

We should agree
On one thing
Everybody is free
But nobody can sing

So let us start singing
Let us start swinging
The day is yours
Break the locked doors

Break the grave
Try to save
Try to swallow
Don't get hollow

Dance in the grass
Shout like it dies
The darkness in you
No place for the truth

See the mountains
See these fountains
Drinking from it
Not a little bit

Swallow it all
Your final call
Nothing more
No sorrow

The light in you and me
The freedom we see
It is here, take it with me
The heaven we will see.

Undemanding

I nearly can eat stones
I nearly can drink the dirt
Don't need the food of the chosen ones
Don't need to look under the skirt

It will be given to me anyway
And if not I still can stay
And if yes I would be happy
Either way I can be the king

And you too, no need to fight through
All you need is already here
Don't believe the lies the made there
That is the clue

It was cold, I know
Nothing different like the snow
But finally it gets warm
If from my dying or from the storm

There was rain, and I got wet
Nothing I have done I would regret
We all knew we need to keep track
The final goals will show a crack

With a sledgehammer strong as the air
Don't see, but if not there you would be scared
Undemanding, we should not care
If one looks away, if one would stare

Trust, yes, for what you don't know
You would not believe even if I told you so
The sky is a mantle of your body and soul
You live happily, but you do not get old.

Harmony

Taking the right directions
Dependent on the mood
We see ourselves only as reflections
May it with you or in bloom

The water of life
Running like music along
Kills like a knife
Blood, runaway, from

Last words, last wishes, uncrowned
They want to be said, but they cannot be sold
You know something well deserved
In this world it is like a curl

Laws of nature, complex interactions
Different as the sum, simple misconceptions
Transcendental dreams in your bones
With such feelings you will never feel alone

Gone like the wind, they said
But I see them still here
Maybe they are indeed too afraid
That they fear just the fear

Comes as nightmare, goes as beloved
Don't saw it below, but see it above
If you think it could be ever enough
The sky will teach you what means to be tough

But on the other side it's very soft
Harmony brings the one you love
Harmony brings to the one you hate
The final stage to disintegrate

Easy

One word after one word
Seems easy enough
A sentence to be heard
Sounds so soft

No resistance at all
We fly through hallucinations
It's so easy to fall
Beyond the imaginations

Tell the letters unspoken
Like a whisper in the sky
We all will not be broken
If we let all away

A dream within a dream
The old men are asking
But we know it better
The words are relaxing

It comes with them
It goes with us
What stays still then
Are just the stars

Blinking softly into no eyes
It is the promise of the paradise
So easy it is and we did not know
Now what is left are just the few

So easy it was, so easy it is
So easy it will be to be free from this
So easy I said, easier than we knew
So easy at least if we are more than two.

Excellent

One step in the right direction
Makes everything changed
Gives you the satisfaction
But what is the price for this fame

The mouth goes down
You think too hard
The prices you won
Nothing like the start

The invitations you get
The crown they hand you over
Makes the women wet
Makes you the perfect lover

Behind your eyes you start to think
It is true, it is true, I am to win
But one thing for sure you would also know
It is for the audience who likes your show

Nothing fundamental we understand
Does not give something to the helping hand
And this hand wants something that's for sure
Something against the poison, one strong cure

So you go all the ladders you climb all the rocks
But there is nothing what will unlocks
The deepest breath of earth to come
Even so big, you're not the one

In a dark corner in a room he is sitting
He tried once but he does not fit in
The ink on the paper tells the story of all
But no one will hear of what has been told.

Amused

We were told, ready from the start
But what is work and what is art
If the former we will not be a part
Have to think what is in my heart

And all desires and the hate
It does not need to be our fate
It can be different and that's for sure
Look at these feelings which are so pure

Running around to get the satisfaction
You tried and tried, yes I know but it did not let in
The ones who beg, the ones who plead
Just go first where you pay the fees

Paid, done, got it, that's all
A story for the young and the old
Still running and running for more
Don't you see that they have nothing in store

For you is all, but nothing is there
You do not get it so you are scared
But what is it that you are running too
It is like a cloud in the sky full of blue

Which makes you think and disagree
All you have been is not what you see
Look at those faces who think all the same
Now after that, all looks pretty lame

Amusing, you think, how all turns around
Something lost, and something to be found
All of you want really the crown
But just say no they are all too fond.

Celebrating

Step by step you made it
Every step you celebrated
Every word carefully chosen
Within a web, so interwoven

Electrons fly through the brain
Make you mad and drives you insane
The joy is full and there is no pain
Even now there is no rain

So celebrate, celebrate, as much as you can
What comes next nobody can plan
For everything is not under control
Different things we take it all

But not now, you are here
That must be enough
And indeed, it was very tough
But not now, you are here, without fear

At last you think to you
Nobody has a clue
How that happened, you're the last
Not going slow, but going fast

The wall is in front
But some seconds still you have
Like in a womb
Soon you lay down in your grave

But not now, you are here
Let us celebrate
Whatever will be
Is chosen as our final fate.

Attention

We are going to start with all
And move forward to the very small
In between we take a close look
On what is there and what is not

What we need is attention to everything
Going forward this way, I think we will win
So first there is all, named the universe
Someone has said that this place is cursed

This curse has come through ones' mind
So if we can see, than we are not blind
The spirits emerge and soon we can find
All is in all which makes up the mind

A circle seems to be the further we went
The atoms together and how they can bend
The powers we see if we look close enough
Within in one leave we see all the stars

So back and forth the same picture emerge
One is for all and all is the earth
The nature, the science, the laws we may see
Makes up together our reality

So attention to something if big or if small Makes us grow and makes us stand tall
If we anyway die after all
The best to do is paying attention to our fall

Look back I say, look back and deep
Try, try to see, try to see me
Stand strong, stand strong on your feet
And finally you find the reason to be.

Clear

The solid truth deep down below
How to get there we do not know
But the way between seems clear
Through the earth we have to tear

Suddenly the in-between Makes us see what we will win
A different form of something else
We want to find but gives no wealth

So disappointed from this now
We do not like to the why and how
We think of something different today
It makes us happy makes us gay

To see the truth for chosen ones
The secret lies on believes beyond
Makes strong, makes weak, makes what you think
It changes the lives with one fast blink

Delusion fall, we must go on
But heart is cold, like a stone
What we were fighting, did we won
On such dirt there can't be a throne

We look through the glass of wall
Do we need someone else to call
Have we looked deep enough
What's the secret that makes us laugh

Crystal clear but don't understand
If I could find a way the world could be bend
From me to you and back again
The beginning then would be the end.

Strong

A thousand weights hang down
I want to lift them, want to be strong
Nothing left, don't make it wrong
I need you so much, not so alone

But strong and loneliness fit very much
This is one truth that I have got
The words of wisdom came to me
From the deep ocean of this sea

The web, the network I have seen
And you have seen it, have you been Where worlds collide to make a test
To start to run, looks like a mess

But it's not, you soon will see
It brings himself out of misery
What is with you it does not know
But if you are strong it will be so

The strong, the weak, you hear them in the rhyme
Everything different even if one of the same kind
What makes us whole may not be known
The magic of maths may show you the how

But at some stage it's whispering
You want to know but lose again
The test you gave will make you fail
Test yourselves you will prevail

Strong, weak, both kind of dependence
Were it will show up it will be defended
It makes the circuits makes the ghost
A machine to live in till it's broke.

Calm

What is the score you ask
The running does not make you very fast
It makes you slow, forgot the goal
You run around till you are old

Stand still and you move
As everybody thinks he is in the same groove
But they are not, just chaos that talks
Write it down on the board with a chalk

Speak like a child, I know what I want
To stand still is the right way to talk
To look around while the waves collide
Fighting with them will give you no pride

The hope is anyway lost we all know
What remains to be done, can be done very slow
Miss the detail and you may miss all
The slowness makes the flower tall

Climb up above it will help you a lot
Then jump down and see what you got Wings that help or weights that pull
Either way your life will be full

Take your time on the ride
You heard it once I repeat that line
What makes a difference if I'm not
I say everything twice if it gives you a lot

Sitting here on my chair
The world out there so beautiful
Only if you are slow you will it hear
You're not a body, you are a soul.

Beautiful

Once again with this fine art
It makes me feel, don't make me smart
It makes a difference, I want it to have
I want it so bad, it even makes brave

I am close to it I will try and pass the test
I wanted always, there is no rest
I will take it if I can and that is no sin
It is what I call to finally win

Will prepare for it to make it happen
Don't know when but I'm trapped in This idea of beautiful and touching thoughts
Make me give all that I've got

And as it continues till the end
I will prepare the rightful then
I gave it to and all there is
During this moment solitude is bliss

Switching to different positions
The sentences switching visions
Go on beyond what can be Even if not, in my mind I see

It everything and less
It is again a small-scaled test
If I would be like all the rest
I would gave up and take a rest

But not here, not now, not so close I have been
If I gave up that would be a sin
This beauty has getting so close to me
I have to take it, so I can be free.

Verve

Go around, see places
Dance with her, see faces
Love him, go alone
Break up, be a stone

Tie together, make it undone
Be another, be the one
Be yourself, do some harm
Take it all, take only some

What you hear, what you feel
What you bought, what you steal
What you fought for, what you lost
What was the benefit, what were the costs

Calculations to make it undone
I saw it once, they were born
Out from numbers, out from dots
You would need a sword to untie these knots

Go away, there is a reason for this
It makes the meat into the fish
Who tells you what to do and how
Who makes you jump and ask you right now

It finishes and will soon stop
Verve a rhythm after the drop
Take the wave and the best of it
Put it in and it will fit

Whirlwind, whirlwind, go around
It makes as strong and makes us bold
We do not make it till we are old
Don't buy the thing you did not sold.

Connected

One will to a new Connected with the few
If I knew
My friends would have been here too

The telecommunications
All packed and patient
Waiting in the line
Feeling just fine

Transmission channels on the line
If questioning would be a crime
We give all and still not adequate
What we want and what we had

Hand in hands would make it better
Write down everything on a letter
If at all, it does not matter
Makes you slim and makes you fatter

Like a sphere that moves in circles
The feather light moves into purple
Like a dream that changes his mood
Not alone but in a group

What makes a difference after all
We talk each other but still we crawl
On the earth we stood strong
Can we be so very wrong

If strong connects so more
I don't want to know what's the score
So different to me and us
It's the now but for you it's the past.

Free

Finally
I see
I desire
I'm on fire

At last
We look
We took
So fast

To the end
You go
You show
You know

Finishing
She licks
She kicks
She is it

For this opening
He got
He had a lot
He thought

Ultimately
It takes
It makes
It shakes

At first
Again
Friends
Finally free.

Sweet

She left and you don't know why
You look upon the sky
You ask why it happened to you
You think but have no clue

Too sweet the answer is
It comes with a fist
Hits you to the bone
No help, now you all alone

Was it worth to have no fight
Always darkness where is the light
Too loose, you need it tight
So close, but now out of sight

You gave it all but what is it worth
There is no straight line, only a curve
Go with the flow, we all know
But you didn't believe, he told you so

All these deserts you gave Together they made just another grave
You needed to be brave
But was not, so you couldn't save

One side down, never goes up
You need two, but no one showed up
You're going somewhere but you need to go up
Do you see that one does not make up

For two, but one is only here
The sweet does not make something to appear
The salt does not make it either
Both would be a savior.

Close

Small repertoire, big dreams
Small fish, you know what I mean
Big mistake, had to make Middle ground, just for the sound

So close to me
Some like it some wants to have it differently
You don't know, you don't know, does make it swim
Get better for us, try to win

Chains collate
We all will celebrate
A feast for us all
Don't dare to make the big so small

We will get you with a vengeance
Our revenge is
A greater good
An infinity loop

Round, round and round
Three times it will be found
The treasure of me and yours
Will lock up all the doors

No need to go in
We all will swim
Through the new ocean that appeared before
This will be called the peaceful war

As we are all so close
You can't chose
The me is you and you are me
At least that's the way it seems to be.

Serene

Looking back, oh come on Whatever you doing there it will be wrong
Whatever is relevant
Is what you really want

Not what you had, but you still need
Funny isn't it to make something small so big Try to make it small
Try to make small everything which is tall

Trying we all said, but what does it mean
A change of plan, whoever it will be
That tells you the plan is a dream
Let it go and you again would be free

But you running circles, not problems, I do it too
The faster we get the more we stay true
To ourselves, the loved ones and the hate
Everything seems to end here in fate

What they are trying to do, we ask ourselves
I know it, and you should also know it very well
The buttons are pressed, the body obeys
Trying to find through satisfactory ways

Just lean back and enjoy the show
Would be easy enough if you could go with the flow
But it's not yours it's his show
Still, there is the chair to sit in, if you do, you win

Then stand up and give it a try
Let it sit in and speak as you lie
Whatever is true, whatever is wrong
Either way I can be weak or I can be strong.

Forestall

You do it for me I do it for you
We help each other and this is true
Making the life easier with one another
So both of us have less to suffer

Going along, take wings and your bliss
Trying to fly but can't just with this Need in me for you and you for me
If this is the truth, seems I don't want to see

Without a trade I give it to you
And your help makes me make it through Most important, I want what you have
You are the same, we both should be brave

Ask for mine and I give it to you
Ask for yours and you will be too
The winner of something what else would be lost
In your own mind I will be the host

Tracking down what is needed
I don't think we need to feed it
You don't think to take it
And I don't think to fake it

My first step
You come next
In the same direction
Gives us satisfaction

Continuing till the end of time
Not the worst idea, you could be mine
I could be yours, in the sense of free trade
But we don't put a price tag on the things we want to make.

Present

No words, go on, no words before
After, no words, go on, the laughter
Eyes focusing to everything, they know the score
Not fast enough, bad luck, seems to be, so suffer

Need to go to the animals
Need to go to the plants
Need to go somewhere save
Need to forget what it wants

I saw it in my soul
The time has not taken it
So sick from it all
That tries to take on a grip

What would they have told
I know you want to know it all
But just take a deep look at the hole
That has everything sold

Black mass, into it
Less than nothing, there we fit
This is the trick
The lack of us makes not less us

Multiplication or division
You can't do anything without a decision
Who is doing the calculation
If it is only a speculation

Words, disappear, I beg you please
I need to feel, I need to see Nothing can help I fear to me
Without words I would be free.

Eager

I want to know it all
And I want to know it now
From the beginning to the end
I need to know the how

I'm eager to get the information
Before I reach my destination
That was chosen from the start
But never was close to my heart

The more I speak the more I got drawn in Feeling numb, don't know where to begin
If an ocean, I would know how to swim
But within life there is not something like I could drink

Just collecting, but who connect the dots
Either way please tell me the what
The when, the how and the why
If I knew it all I would fly to the sky

But here we are, lying in the mud
Don't know the end, the middle and the start
Don't know nothing at all
Probably only that we are very small

But is this enough or wrong to begin with
Or should we just run from a cliff
Discussion after discussion about the cause
If it came, would we know where it was

Collection, eager to get the collection right
Planning and sorting to win the fight Between unknown and knowledge and anything between
I said it once, twice, said it as much as I can, this war we have to win.

Relax

Crossing the abyss
In the middle you feel a kiss
You look down
This is the way to go, go now

Don't go slow, go on
Or stop, and relax, don't drown
Start breathing, not there yet
Don't invite you don't want to met

What is in this deep dark
An alien thing, full of razor sharps
Not your home it sees
Not your territory it feels

The abyss and you
Stronger every second you look
You obey the rules
But does it play this game too

Reflections like a mirror
It is you, relax
And something else, frantic
Stay relaxed, don't panic

Look further down, try to see the movement
Something hunting, it is the abyss
You felt a kiss
Now it is procurement

Go on, pretend you haven't seen
Against this creature you cannot win
You wake up in your bed
You think to yourself, am I already dead.

Carefree

Life without good or bad
Carefree but still so very sad
Even the other way around
Still, heaven can't be found

Seems so close to what one wants
Nothing to think of what may haunts
No worries that you need to count

Thinking this and thinking that
All the thinking makes you sad
Even if it's on the ground

Just one knot is all it needs
Feeds the pain and feeds the greed
If you have two, good, makes a good sound

No rope, no double floor that makes it save
One hope is to be brave
Make it through and be very proud

Live with the flames, a horror show
If deserved you do not know
Try to survive from black to brown

Should be this way, there is no doubt
Being carefree is not allowed
Should not be and they put you down
Maybe there heaven can be found.

Natural

If it would be any other way
No one of you could stay
I told you all the time
What is yours is also mine

Your chain of words that binds the world
No means no that's the final word
I say and you will do as I have told
My laws are very clear and cold

There is no discussion of my way to go
If you are fast or if you are slow
All the same for me right here
Once you're here, then disappeared

While you think about your ingenuity
I make the world like me
First obvious than complex schemes
If you don't know, I am all within

Don't have to show, that's not my plan
You can be angry, you maybe a fan
It does not matter next to me
I set the score, you are not free

For any law you find in me
I make you suffer make you flee
You cannot hide, there is no range
I always get my revenge

But if you ask as I told you now
And move to me very slow
And take a look close to me
I give you secrets to make you free.

Inspired

The market says, the devil speaks
Inspirations are what I will need
To buy, to sell what's left in me
I need the new to set me free

Give me this and I do not care
Just my ideas I want to share
Inspired by the other one
My soul don't know where it's coming from

So I am everything and Null
Once was a brain inside my skull
But all ideas made me so dull
Can't make any sentences now full

I need your inspiration I say it again
It eases the wishes, it eases the pain
Without you there is always rain
I would do, if I would can

But all these people which have everything
They want the thing they cannot win
They want the difference they are not
And this wish is all they've got

Take all the money before you leave
Inspiration is a thief
If they do, don't make them stop
Very soon they will you drop

At this point be so far away you can
Try to find the promised land
It's opposite the sand
The ocean, deepness and the trend.

Unique

With each letter
Everything less matter
Everything is later
Everything is better

Words, they seem unique
But they are not free
They need to be connected
They can only be related

Uniqueness everywhere
I could swear
Saw it once too
But the new was too few

The space between papers
Uniqueness is hiding
It's not fighting
Try to ride it

Drop, drop, drop
We forgot, forgot, forgot
What, what, what
Just hope, hope, hope

Leave, leave, leave
All, all, all
Make it small, small, small
Till you are tall, tall, tall

Be unique, unique, unique
You can be, be, be Soon you see, see, see
You are free, free, free.

Stable

We are stable
Another fable
To get by
Don't know why

Standing still It's your will
No control
After all

Make it
Take it
Shape it
Fake it

Pretend to be
You will see Someone else
Fits yourself

Laugh
Cry
Cough
Lie

Playground
Kindergarden
No sound
Must be hardened

Dynamics
To stabilize
The rhyme is
To realize.

Playful

All things can come together
Make problems make a solution
Everything works to the better
The very final conclusion

And starting again, there is so much to be done
And in doing so, all makes so much fun
It goes back and forth, we do not why
But if we play, it's like we fly

Searching for some, and searching for those Whatever will come, we are so close
Thousands of ways, thousands of goals
No edges here, just like a ball

Chaos and order is what it creates
When we doing our play
That creates our fate
Start again so that we stay

Ask more
Ask someone again
Ask for
Or ask a friend

Dreadful menace
Beautiful guide
When the end is
It is time to hide

Start again with all
Make again a round
If it's outside cold
Here you can make everything sound.

Tired

Tired after all this fun
Part of it but was not the one
Come even if I'm alone
Soon enough I will be gone

Tried to feast the beast inside
But what's inside I cannot hide
Once I thought through all the night
Now I seem I'm not that pride

The arms are hanging down the stairs
What I breathe is not the air
Started a one-time affair
But it ended in despair

Cold shivering I feel in my bone
If I run might reach my home
A bed to rest and make me strong
But not today, I need a phone

Calling the ambulance
It's my only chance
To survive this dance
A bad romance

Down in a hole
Feeling the soul
It's the end after all
I break the small

Crush the earth
A new birth
From this bed of dead
That makes me so sad.

Smashed to pieces

One thing done
Wrong
Last

How to pick up the pieces
This wall is here
How I can leave this
If there is so much fear

Thoughts gone
Wrong
One idea came Lame

The others speaking
You are leaking
Blood from scares
It is yours

Don't know how to do
It's only you
The tools are missing
Nobody's listening

Broken mirrors
Bad reflections
I know someone else to help
But can't help myself

This curse I will keep
Will not give up to be free
But there is something I've got from you
Smashed to pieces but I've found a glue.

Seethe with Rage

Yes, I know your rage is more
But there is something I have in store
It's not weak but pretty hardcore
You killed me once but not dead anymore

Beyond the hell I see your face
I don't wish that you simply fade
You may will do but not in me
I can't forget what you let me see

The powers collide I gave all a test
And one thing's for sure, I will never rest
Because you wake me all the time
When I try but there is no time to hide

Standing in front with your presents
I know your heaven
I may not feel it anymore
But I will get what you were asking for

Your spell created me
And I don't want to see
It's much more than I can take
When it hurts I know it's no fake

Like the downward spiral I bring it back up
To get the memories that I forgot
I take the hit I make the fall
But you will not see me after all

The fire you caused is powering my flesh
I may not be as strong with what you have left
But I got something too and even you who is as strong as the mad
Will get a thing or two you will never forget.

Out of Equilibrium

The earth spinning
Devils winning Demons calling
Tipping points spawning

Patterns emerge
They bring the surge
Equilibria appearing
It's not one thing

Two, three or more
Don't know the score
Don't know anything
How could one win

Stumbling across
The surface is lost
Falling down
Can't make a sound

Speechless in fear
Words disappear
Now it seems clear
All exists what I fear

Where is the new
I will get there too
Roads are intertwined
And I will find

The end of the world
That is the world of myself
I can't get help
But will not hide in this shelf ... these words I can give.

Feel terrible

I feel terrible all the time because of you
You gave me everything of your hate
I hadn't a clue
But now it's my fate

The sentences telling the story
Words I do not have to worry
The language of the soul
It is out of control

Your eyes I cannot look too
Was thinking here but it was you
The strings connected make a sound
I cannot give up on what I found

What lies between the lines
Everything I do for me is a crime Against myself, against the law
If I am punished I would not know what for

What I deserve and what I got Both are small and both are a lot
The negative object above me
It knows everything what I see

Go away would not work
Tried it once but it still lurk
If I look above again
It will be all the same again

Yes, I know, have to think again
Of the positive of all the same
But I knew if I look again
It will be all the same again.

Pensive

With all the things we can think through
I cannot make a thing or two Nothing connects and is a hustle
Unless it's matched with muscle

So what needs to be done
Just deleting the lines
To pay the fine
Which is just only one

Seems only questions arise
But are all answers just lies
Is there a truth to be found
Is there something like a ground

To stand on and built to the sky
To ask finally the big question, why
To get closer on what we have learned
But I see the sun, I know we get burned

Deep in the sea, far above the sky
Either way, we all give it a try
Either way, we all just fail
Knowing that we set the sail

Drifting nowhere, completely lost
Something bigger as us
Still our answers so soft
Maybe we need to let it pass

In this whole, which is me
I don't dare to make me see
I wander in these very caves
To find the one who can be saved.

Watching

I try not to see
So I am a ghost
I try to break free
But I think I'm lost

If I watch the others
They come so close
If I don't bother
Again would be lost

The fire I see is not for me
The burning I feel comes for free
No other things I want to say
Watching, watching, till you are away

Learn the game and pay the price
I don't like how the game likes to fight
All in all is devilish
You get something else, for each of your wish

Watching, watching the blue sky
I don't know and I don't know why
If I can't wake until I die
I feel free within this lie

You tried, you tried, but it is of no use
The handling of it is not something to chose
You tried but it is really not worth
Still, what to do with all this dirt

So you lie down and watch
Watch till the end of the world
Which is your end from what you heard
Just wait and you will hear the shoots.

Punishment

I tried to look away
On what I have become
But now I see it all
I transformed into a stone

Everything I tried to save
Was fading just away
I tried to keep them here
But they just fell into a maze

Now I will get what they have said
Just a machine the need to disintegrate
I told them wrong but they did not hear
On the other hand I believed them every word

Seems I just get what I deserved
The way was always haunting me
And finally I became the non-entity
Yes, I bought again, but this needed to be said

As I become the way
The feelings swept away
Can't run but also cannot stay
With these sins I know I have to pay

The punishment was, is, and will be here
I always was, and will be full of fear
Even the sky would be the same
When punishment will finally come

To the one I fear to call by his name
A slave and king I please to be
Would it be for fortune and fame
I still would be a non-entity.

Suddenly

From one second to another
I lost my cover
I lost my hiding place
Everybody seeing my face

So missing my ideas
I don't know where I am
If I could find back home
But again, I cannot find

With echoes from far beyond
I wanted just the thing
That cannot be found
So should I wait that you will bring

It to me and I will take
Who would make this as sad
The one second before the other
Still need a place to hide and cover

With structures falling out of place
Try to keep them out from this haze
But it's too late, they told me before
If not, I surely will make it so

And still all the ashes falling down the world
I always tried to save
But it was a world of ghosts
So all just slipped away

So suddenly all got worse
But then again, the worst was first
And that came along
Surely would have long before sworn to be gone.

No Feelings allowed

I see them fall
No feelings
Standing on the ceiling
But before the jump we all crawl

Like flies
Like lies
Going down
We pawn

Just another work
I just heard
No feelings allowed
Should we be proud

I don't know
Maybe you know
Maybe he or she Maybe only the we

Nothing individual
Singles a residual
What to do
Have no clue

Nothing to feel Simple as that
This is real
You need this lack

All are doing this
At least it looks like so
Will delete your list
Again your soul can glow.

Astonished

Looking at this planet
I'm going to figure
Go get it, damn it
You have to endure

One flower, pedals everywhere
Could be the key
But too tired to see
I saw it once, but I will not swear

Other stories were told
Before now and the very old
All was said and done
Just go back to the first one

Astonishment, the first feeling of it all Got it together to make everything tall
And important and great
Astonishment that such beautiful things all will certainly fade

Everywhere I look just about Everywhere you were calling it
It's like landing on a cloud
Nothing solid

You heard it
I heard it
Would it fit
Don't trust it a bit

Astonishment, that all was found before
Still all is hardcore
Astonishment, that all was said before
Still all is the score.

Known

It was tried to find peace for eternity
However, there was a thing they didn't wanted to see Evil existed long before the good
A truth that could not be used for them as food

They chewed, the swallowed and finally vomit
The truth was too hard to cope with
They looked back far too long
They did not wanted to look at what they found

So they kept it secret but they did fail
It's not the secret that prevails
It comes with or without knowledge such an awful truth
Hell or heaven is not something we can choose

May we try to keep it
May we try to talk about it
May we try to circle it
May we make boundaries and forget it

It will be there no matter what
It is not few, it is a lot
It does not ask or plead or wait
It takes it all as soon you let

Stay in the present and do not see
This kind of harsh reality
This kind of fruitful power struggle
It makes twice to something double

A truth, they know
You get what you sow
The farming is on
It will and has always won.

Curious

There is the black whole
The cave that you need to go
Into, don't hesitate
She will be with you and therefore you are save

You have nothing but your eyes
She has the light that makes everything bright
It is small but enough to go on
So step in this very black whole

First the cave, it is so huge
All your dreams were here to flew
Now it's dark and you cannot see
This was before you used to be

Look, a small way across the entrance
You need to call to see the menace
But there is no step you can take
She needs to be with you or you cannot make

It through your past dreams
Nothing is as it seems
You go and reach the small next door
Open it open, but was opened before

Still darkness but you need to see
The fire in her hands will make you free
To see the writings on the wall
Curious, but first you need to crawl

A next cave is shown to you
Many have left after they knew
And so you will, but it's simple too much
What to do after all you've got.

Scared to Death

Imagine a nightmare place
Where fears came to life
Running in a maze
Or running in a hive

Look behind you
Or don't, doesn't matter too much
A simple truth
That you thought it doesn't matter a lot

You run but cannot hide
This is not your dream and you are on the other side
If you think you can escape, better think again
This is not a place where you can count on some friend

Nearly there, just a few lines more
You will see what the thing you fear the most is looking for Seems it is you, and now you cannot run
Hence it is clear that the time has come

What to do, how to respond
No chance, you know from where it is coming from
So close, you feel it and cry silently for help
But there is no help, but can you help yourself

No, this thing is bigger than me or yours
You kept it separated but now it is through this door
Which you tried to lock but there is a key
Everything real what was once a fantasy

And while you were thinking it is in the back
Is now next to your face it doesn't hold back
Repetitions are not something you care in this dream
You're scared to death and you start to scream.

No judgment

Trying to be alone
Searching for a home
To die right in
I do not need to win

Just me myself and I
Do not ask why
I have to be alone
Maybe because of lack of hope

Don't need to judge the rule
I only have seen a few
But they are enough for me
To keep me in this misery

So no judgment were I am
Do not need such kind
Of drugs and wine
At most I welcome a friend

But go away if you can
I do not need to have a friend
Was lost so long ago
Don't know how to be different anymore

Just to disappear
Just to lose the fear
Just to get away
Of what I've been afraid

No sound in the air
No voices of despair
No things I need to care
Only me and the universe.

Not highest above

Looking down
Looking up
Staying calm
I forgot

What is below
What is above
I do not know
Forgot to love

Forgot to hate
Forgot to speak
Forgot all in between What was deep in me

Not highest above
Not deepest in the ground
Not horizontal
Not vertical I have found

To make the line
To make it straight
Where is the love
Where is the hate

That balances everything out
I need to get the know how
But is it broad or is it deep
And how I should keep

It everything together
What stays here stays forever
Seems not below and not above
Infinity is what we love.

Productive

Once we were one with the earth
We took all from the birth
Once we used tools for us
We built machines that brought us to the stars

We created, were productive
We stated, were reductive
We called, gave words
Now all only hurts

Was gone long before
It was coming from the core
Nature itself
But now it doesn't help

More and more
That how it seems to be Free of the or
Which made us free

The decision was made
As two worlds collide
We have to break
What has tried to hide

Now standing with two broken pieces
Be productive they sing
But for what reasons
This new thing we can bring

They told us how it goes
They told us different story modes
They told us about productivity
But nothing is as it used to be.

Annoyed

When all goes slow
As it should be
But one thinks he knows
How it should be

Then start to move slower
Try nearly to stop
Like he is your brother
Let's see what he got

Another signal
Twice and more
Is he a rival
Do you make him bored

Not clear but annoyed
Like stepping into the void
The mental armor
Will harm his and her

Danger lies ahead
Wants to make you break
But you are not so desperate
To obey on what he said

Just move on Again the signal comes
The escape seems clear
Move so that he disappears

And look closely at him
On what he did
On what he will do
It's no problem for you.

Accepting

I'm accepting
But regretting
The steps it took
To take a look

Not totally different now
I think at least
Before I wanted to know
But now it's unleashed

Can't fight
Accepting
To be right
Regretting

Complicated once
Still complicated today
But who wants
That it should fade away

Without regretting
So I must let in
The truth I sold

Taking it back
This made me so sad
But now accept
Without regrets

Now I know
This is how it feels
No need to show
What it has killed.

Sensitive

Seems so mechanic
It seems all so clear
But each letter gives me panic
Each makes me fear

Forgot one thing
Now do not understand
Like a telephone ring
It makes me run the walk

With you now all makes perfect sense
I try to obey
But all the other things come getting in the way
I cannot speak in my defense

Left out, left alone, left to decay
There is no need to rush, there is no need to pray
I took a deep look, but forgot about the way
So all is done and I have left for you to stay

Being so sensitive
Made me do all this things
Jumping down this cliff
To see on what it brings

Lot of pages later
It still does matter
Matters more every page I take
Soon I will not understand a thing and all is too late

The thousand years ahead
My voice speaks not so clear
But you should not forget
That all I said is real.

Fulfilled

When powers collide
There is no place to hide
You have to take the role
What was supposed to be your call

Not going forward
Not going back
If you keep scanning
You will find your track

No way to write it down
No way to think about what you have found
A simple task is far too much
You even dislike a simple touch

A face in books you glancing in
You do not know where to begin
Has found a different kind of life
Could be a husband or its wife

Enough they have from you in there
The future seems so very clear
The past knew it before as well
Only we just could not tell

The tales of humankind
What comes out of their mind
What comes out of their hands
Does not only make them friends

Virtual reality
Not what we see
If it wakes up
A new chapter starts.

Honest

I saw my fall
Through the eyes of someone
It made the call
Wherever I may roam

Following me
But honestly
I needed to flee
To be the someone I could be

No talking
No running
Through walking
We were hiding

I went the long road
Going to places
Not moved a bit
Still see all the faces

I needed to see
Could it be
But honestly
It couldn't be

I know it's a break
It's flawed
But this is how I made
Can keep the spawn

Honestly
I can't see
Beyond you
And your truth.

Speak to

One sentence to be said
It is your fault indeed
Never will it go away
It is sad as it seems to be

On the other hand
Who should I speak to
It is not my friend
Or something to relate through

It comes on a chair
It sits on the desk
I don't believe that this was fair
But it was not the last

Going to but never come
An advertisement for your own fears
But where you coming from
It is tears

Now I turn absent
The thing had spoken
Don't want to defend
But it is now broken

So move along I think
And all are doing this
But the more I sink
The more I become a fist

Breaking this is crucial
Making this fusion
Combining it with what has been Combining it with all we have seen.

Hate

Rage, rage, against the dying of the light
I know it well but need to hide
The hate is glory and is pride
The death in me is what I like

Will kill all with one big punch
Will kill myself before I run
The beauty and the beast
To say the least

Yes, we know, the brave men
All said and done, who stand strong and tall
I was going insane
After I found this wanderwall

I step back and watch them
I step back and will sent
The best what they want from me
They will be surprised to see

I will be surprised too
What's inside I did not knew
Don't know it now but I know my fate
Everything goes but what stays is hate

What has been there before
Was fading in decay
Don't want to see it anymore
I just fade away

And you will go without Regrets or one big fate
I will look for you
But here I cannot stay.

Ruined

Was so far above
Couldn't believe it
Well I did
But now I lost the love

Dreams so high
All in the reach
But life taught
Me that it all was lies

Now as all is washed away
I just try to break
Into something new
But there is nothing what I actually could do

Ruined by all the truth
Ruined by all I saw Ruined by all I felt Ruined, and all my fault

Should have been stronger
We all should have probably be
But I cannot stay any longer
In the vision that now I see

Making the distance to what I was
A better self of me
Don't know the reason or the cause
But lost my ability to simply be

The weights are pulling down
I try to obey
Just another slave
Oh, I don't know what I have become.

To care

All are within the one
We all cannot flee
We all will die for sure
And got lost in this reality

I care for all
I care for none
It is the same
After we all have gone

To make a difference
To make it matter
I would need a new sense
To change into the better

But every single thing
Makes everything double
Whatever you may bring
It should end in trouble

But finding down the one
To care for at least them
Is not where I am coming from
Don't know of this friend

So close to where I should belong
So close to where I should have found
But now far and absent
I am the only one who seems to understand

So wrong when everything is full
With loneliness that makes dull
I care and will for every step you take
Will go with you to find my kind of fate.

Suspicion

I don't know
What this is all about
But what I do know
Suspicion pays a lot

The lines crossing the streets
Everybody walks the same
Cannot feel my feet
With regrets and shame

The puppet masters do
What they do best
Has this all been true
Or is this just a test

Secrets that are real
Secrets that will hide
Like the book of seven seals
Truth can't be opened wide

Now all I thought was true
And all I thought was wrong
Becoming blurred and strong
I wished I could see it through

As angels came to me
Telling what is it
I think they too are not so free
With their tiny little bit

Who could tell me so
My friends did not
Further down below
I do not even know what.

Critical

We all know about perfection
But I do not let you in
All that is left to be done
Is to make it into a not perfect thing

What is the meaning of it anyway
You stay there make it perfect and die
Soon it will decay
Perfection is not something to stay

Blinded by the light
Of perfection in sight
But will never achieve for long
Perfection is not something strong

It is the individual between the mass
If it sees it, it will not let it pass
Anyway, will not stay at last
So forget perfection it's just makes a fuss

From the other end
Perfection is heaven sent Perfection gives you everything
Everything that lost in the in-between

So perfection tell me so
If I don't please let me know
Should you be the one to go
I will do it but let me know

Saw it once and pretty sweet
But myself I need to keep Perfection is the future
So let it be the ruler.

Hopeless

The will to achieve
In brief
One will fail at best
It is so hopeless

Tried it once
Tried it again
Tired from Anger and pain

The output produced
It is of no use
As it will disappear
Nobody will hear

Coming with aspirations
Going with instigations
Crying for all the useless tasks
I could not tell, even if you would ask

So we setting up a different goal
Even if it is very small
What is created by our hand
Is embarked to the promised land

Now move on and forget the tasks
They will die, they will not last
So if you come with another mask
I see through you and start to ask

A question or two is all
To make the final call
The hopeless task so small
But the task for you quite tall.

Passionate

Trying to make things
Creating together a mix
Maybe it links
And everything is fixed

A try maybe worthless
But who knows
Maybe something else
Comes out of these flows

No need for hesitation
No need for speculations
Just simple try to do it well
If it wins, no one can tell

Going for the extra mile
Trying out a different smile
One will after a long while Get the passion for the file

Then take it
Then break it
Burn it
You earned it

It's your creation
Can do what you want
No dilation
If you are wrong

The burning was there
Enough to be scared
It's the final present from Long before you make all done.

Curse

If I could
I would
If I would
I could

Curse
It makes it worse
From the worst
To the curse

If it should be
Than it should
If it should
It still shouldn't be

The words
Not to blame
Getting the same
Is worse

Secrets
To be unknown
But known Cursed leads

So nothing to say
But curse is worse
You need to pay
But curse is worse

Can't tell you more
But curse is worse
Only thing I'm allowed to say
That curse will not only stay.

Intelligent

Make two times two
The rest to add
If it is few
That makes it bad

A short perspective
To be long
No regret is
To be strong for someone

So speaks nature
It speaks it clear
It speaks it loud and it speaks it near

Close incredibly
What we are doing inside the me
Not someone else we used to be Just me and the soul that thinks it's free

Still make two times two Thinks it makes some sense
Maybe it does for a few
Who are intelligent

What is the ground we think about
It is solid but still mud
It is fluid and still dirt
It gives an answer but still hurt

What way to think
In which way to drink
The fountain of nature to make some sense
Can it be found through intelligence.

Courageous

Don't know even where to begin
A flat stack and a price to win
With being tall and being brave
Could be all inside the grave

But all is different if you look close enough
It's not easy it is tough
Change it quickly if you laugh
Makes you double when you're half

Black and white
Right or wrong
To fly or fall
All makes you strong

In difference
Not indifference
Like a dance
Not like a fence

Clearly outside beyond the scope
If you are rich if you are broke
Makes no difference even it does
Because you're heading for the stars

No test or time to pretend
Simply a very good friend
Honestly, why can't you see
Being courageous is all you need to be

A dispute, fight or war
Whatever is in store
It doesn't matter after all
We all together fall

Inert

Like in a nightmare
The body moves inert
Clutches in the deep Treasures to keep

Moving too slow
Making it from down below
Up to the air
Full of despair

Tried to keep it
But not fast enough
Cannot move
It is too tough

Where am I
Or is this just a dream
Being digested
Or something similar it seems

The energy drains
Full in pain
Of not moving
But seems improving

Yes, I'm lying in my bed
Can't move my head
And instead
Something inside me is glad

A word I need you to tell
I hear
I fear
And then I fell.

Mechanical

I tried to fix
Like he said
But instead
My machine was dead

Searched for the cause
Searched for a reason
It surely got lost
In the winter season

One law to govern it all
One law I need to recall
No tricks just the thing needed
You need to fix it, no need to feed it

A simple thing
One would admire
The simple things in life
Are things of desire

Oh so mechanical
I love the machine in you
It is so tyrannical
I will be anew

Tried to pass the land
Tried to pass the sea
But with this broken machine
I cannot flee

Stuck in here and stuck in me
It needs to die to see
But it is not you and it is not me
Mechanical inside the great big machine.

Absent

Searched for you so long
But you were gone
You were absent
I tried to bent

But gave up
Lost my way
You lost yours
Between us, there is no door

Simple life
Household, husband and wife
But absent
I tried it to bent

Going on with you
Far reaching places
Seeing all the faces
But was not true

You were absent
I tried to bent
But now you see
You cannot see me

Lost the memory long ago
Lost the memory like tracks after the snow
Lost the memory that told me so
Lost the memory that it has been told

Being alone
A broken home
Do not be afraid
It is not that sad.

Listless

There were two ways to pass
Full satisfaction that not lasts
Or being listless all the time
You chose yours, I now chose mine

Having a heart of stone
Makes me not feel alone
Makes me not feel anything
Not anything or in-between

I tried to cut the skin
But the skin did not win
I tried to break my bones
But I was the one who won

The blood got thick
Like glue
I tried to make the kick
So my heart starts anew

But I've got it wrong from the very start
Seems that I wasn't that smart
But it was worth a try I guess
Just another betrayal I must confess

The master who wants what I've got
The king of this system we all call the world
I believe it could be
That everything is as sad as it seems

So give not Try no more
Catch up
Break this law.

Cold

Summer is over
Winter is coming
Summer is over
Winter is coming

Summer is over
I regret
Winter is coming
I will confess

Summer is over
It is going to be cold
My heart melted once
Now it is twofold

In deepest hell
The cold was kept
I was trapped
But now it's back

Could not see
Just its emanations
I tried to flee
But there is no salvation

As all is gone
The world cold to the bone
Again they are alone
But still wearing the crown

Breaking men
As coldness stands
Nothing can be moved
The frost is the proof.

Lifeless

They came for her
The dead body weighted heavy
Will it occur
The weight like a levee

Overtopped and over
Tapped over the shoulder
I will not bother
But it was discovered

Making everything wrong
We need to be strong
But how this is not clear
Can we build an empire with fear

Too many emotions
A deadly potion
A premature thing
That we all cannot win

Going back in time
Before the animal life
We all would feel fine
With a long bearded knife

Lifeless lines gained controlled
Being created to torture the soul
Making a wish brings you two steps back
Everything possible but still there is lack

The less than not
The whole in the dark
We all got caught
Within the dark art.

Uninterested

They information comes
Like a thunderbolt
Seems it only runs
Down, like a waterfall

The ghosts that we create
Get free all the time
It is our fate
That information shines

Uninterested news
What was it all about
There are too many clues
But we have so much doubt

Without it all to see
To be acquainted with
We will all get free
And finally can drift

Where we will belong
Is not yet set in stone
I do not seem to recognize
What I once needed to hear

And maybe that you know
What I was telling you
Staying down below
I will make it so

As all is now at stake
And even if it is our fate
It does not really make
It uninterested.

Mental

Try to forget the words
Sentences, letters should fall apart
Whatever I have heard
Forget, to make a brand new start

Swimming in the sea
Wisdom down below
The sharks that can foresee
Will give a brand new hope

Diving down to them
Asking how they did
But I am not a friend
Taking bit by bit

Further down below
The darkness all takes in Still there's something more Touching all my skin

Giving up the strokes
Giving up the swim
Whatever evokes
It's given up to win

But not here in the abyss
Where all is not as it seems Giving a last kiss
And then stop to swim

Floating like before
Mentally prepared
That after we are bored
We will start to be scared.

Jaded

Guilty measures
Jaded pleasures
I've got to know
But don't know how

Tried everything
Still my soul doesn't sing
Around the world we searched
Did not made anything worth

It can only fly away
But I search for something to stay
I got the key but found no lock
Soon all I want but already forgot

Truncated from circle to square
What I wanted once, now I don't dare
Jaded till they break it
I said it, but has faded

Now no call reaches me
Lost my search, still have the key
I've got to go where we all need to be
I need to find, I need to see

Beyond the gray, colors emerge
You've got it right, don't stop to search
At some place one will find
That takes away what makes us blind

And if you found
Try search for me
You are the lock
I'll be your key.

Sharing

We wanted to share
We wanted to care
But something cannot be
If we both don't see

It, else what matters
I could try to help her
You could try to help me
Both we could be free

Look around with me
Brave hearts do not see
All, and nothing what is needed
If something at all, one of us could see it

Sharing not caring
The body burning
In the hell we live in Still, together we have the chance to win

Or lose, at some point we do not need to chose
At some point we do not need to question ourselves
Simple friends
Simple was nothing and everything at the very end

Knowledge cannot pass
But we will stay to last
Going not away
Together through sharing we stay

So that diversification
Reduces the risk manifestation Reduces the need to keep
Will give us the way to the secret.

Youth

Can't see it
Cant' be it
Can't free it
Can't feel it

It can want
It has fun
It is dumb
It is strong

It is weak
It is small
It is freak
It is tall

Horizons illuminating
Always celebrating
Always thinking
Always spinning

Can't time riding
Can't stop trying Can't failing
Can't staying

Genetic code
Makes it broke
Makes it wrong
Makes it long

No need for differentiation
Only sweet sensations
Stays in celebration
A manifestation.

Receptive

I need the misery let go
Else I would be far too slow
To prevent the dangers up ahead
That drives me insane, makes me mad

All which is coming to an end
I take a look and try to send
A message which lessons were learned
Far beyond my own concerns

A store to collect precious things
To build wings
Like phoenix in the sky
He never asked the question why

Just do it now and start with me
Soon you also let me see
How you see everything around
It makes a thing that will be found

No worries you got it back in doubles
However, still will make you some trouble
But again, you have been first
Collecting the water against the thirst

Drinking, omitting, surely some hallucinations
Everything within the boundary for some investigations
All you need is some imagination
Then you find the worthy lessons

If not, I will find it for you
Maybe there are not a lot, but still some few
Most important thing, they're true
Receptivity makes a new view.

Cheerless

I got to where I could see
But all I see does make me bleed
Was not sure what I hoped for
But know all is sour

Drifting apart
Does not help to be smart
Not here
Where nobody appears

I could have seen it long before
Does not help me anymore
If got to fall I feel to know
Nothing as I felt before

Death surrounds the living things
Whatever truth out there, nothing to win
Is something that we both can think
To the bottom I seem to sink

Reach my hand
But no one is here
Soon enough I disappear

And all others feel the same
Can't find it or give it the name
No one else but me to blame
Now the only fate seems fame

Through treasures, gold or songs to sing
Either way we all not win
Either way all is not meaningful
The system lives but we all are gone.

Crestfallen

When I arrive
I have lost
It deprives
Almost

Gives me one chill
The one I can feel
The boundary set
I will not get

The other side
It is opened wide
But I need to hide
Crestfallen but full of pride

Such innocence
Decadence
Around me a fence
I cannot stand

Looking across
Not for me it seems
There is the most
Only in dreams

Eagles fly
But I must crawl
Into the dirt
Into the grave I fall

Put earth on it
Should be forgotten
Will crush it
All of a sudden

Still can't go
It is too strong for me
While I can see
Can't go with the flow.

Pusillanimous

What to say
What to do
What in the name
How I get through

One feels it now
Not strong enough
Can't make the jump
Not so damn tough

Got to hide
Forget the pride
Forget the soul
Leave it all

Touch the skin
To feel the feel
It can begin
Please do not kill

Afraid of all
Nothing to beat
If I could call
This would be sweet

But no sounds come out
The mouth is closed
Pusillanimous
It has been told

The world too big
The mind too small
The waves too fast
Will break my fall.

Gloomy

Beyond my thinking
Something is sinking
Should be drinking
From the sea of love

I cannot reach
But it will breach
Once and for all
When I am gone

Sky is grey
Saw, who played
Was not me
A misery

Can't bear what I don't know anymore
Everything I do is not because I want it for
All is done because of what I do not know
I can't see it but I can feel it so strong

So here I am
Waiting to be
Decisions to be made
But I can't lead

So I am led
In cold sweet
I have prayed
To be saved

But what came back
Just made me sad
A voice from deep within Told me I cannot win.

Debase

All what we have been
All what we have said
Is not enough
We are simply mad

It was chosen by the sky
Again, don't ask me why
Have an alibi
But don't call it I

Everything done
Everything won
Everything seen
Not worth a thing

Going on in circles
Coming across you again
A deferral
But do not have more time

In the mud now
Or you will be thrown
For you it is not allowed
You are alone

All things just telling one thing
You will not win
It crosses space and time
Crying

So sitting and waiting
Pictures painting
Of the end
No defense.

Happy

I am happy
The world is mine
I do not need much
All is my friend

Cared about
But let it go
Without the weight
I feel like gold

Precious
Worth the risk
Miraculous
Inside a drift

Got nothing to say bad
Nothing that seems to be too sad
Even if I would fade
Still I would be so glad

Being Seeing Feeling
Living

Living the dream
In the stream
We are all within
We all will win

Laying back
I think how much we were sad
But now there is no regret
We are dancing on the street.

Inquisitive

I read it through months
I tried to understand what it wants
To say to me
But I could not see

The formulas all got blurry
I've got to worry
Threw it away
But took I back as it needed to stay

The secret needed to be known
My heart was not like a stone
Living and inquisitive
I wanted to know how it would live

Started from the bottom
Now I'm here
Thought about each column
Now there is no more fear

Understood what they meant
Do not need it to bend
It is straight and it is clear
All questions disappeared

The pages we all went through
The calculations done by us
Now we have a clue
What is inside the stars

A language spoken
Nearly broken
But we found it again
Solid now we can stand.

Insensitive

You wonder about the future
But forgot how she got through the past
Once you have used her
Now everything's going down fast

A robot produced
Instead of metal just the bone
She was confused
Now she got used to be all alone

You wondering
But it was easier to forget
Thundering
This is what you now will get

It can't be forgotten
Just was put away
But inside something is rotten
You know the when and the why

Robot dressing robots
A simple task for a machine
But there is a jackpot
Of learning who you have been

You meet all once in a while
And this is now your style
Time to pretend
But there is now no friend

All are wondering
But the secret is too clear
If it came out one day
Everybody would fall in fear.

Aloof

Nobody comes near to me
I can't bear to see
I can't take another fall
Therefore I built this wall

Protection I seek
I need my secrets to keep
I am afraid of all
I already taken the fall

Was not me to be named
It was something that came Took my strength and my pride
Only thing left is to hide

So don't be surprised
I am rude, not really nice
I was burned long ago
My soul could not stand the fall

Fences and wires are my friends
They will stay till the end
Only can find my fame
If I am staying lonely again

Truth has to be told
But instead my feelings were sold
I am now far away from all
If you would cry, I would not hear your call

Maybe, just maybe there could be a way
But do not want to be betrayed
So the way is hidden
But saving me is not forbidden.

Tolerant

Whatever comes in a way that fits
I bless it first but curse it gives Whatever way we want to live
I came before, no need to fit

A clean paper
Start to finish
If this is the fate to her
All will diminish

Ink and pen
Drawing the lines
What is between Makes the difference

Tolerant with blood and flesh
We will gonna make some cash
But going out in a big crash
Is not something that is fresh

No high no lows
It seems so
Friend or foes
Both told me so

What's to be done
With such non to feel Wherever we are coming from
All feelings will need to be steel

No laws inside
Just laws from others
Now dignity and pride
Let it belong to our sisters and brothers.

Friendly

Someone asks
You get it done
No more masks
All is just fun

To help
To advise
A devise
Outside the cell

Prison break
Feelings awake
You are me and I is you
Together we can make it through

No bad words
Why should there be Lost all bad memories
Fly like a bird

Even here
Hate should disappear
Fear should leave
Don't disagree

Just give me your hand
Will go to the promise land
With you my friend
There will be no end

Why not
Simple task
All you got
First and last.

Approachable

Even if we do not understand
We can give us a helping hand
Just sit down and talk
What you want to talk about

What your feelings are within Alone we lose, together we win
Let's not get hasty, let's start where you need to begin
If there is a river to cross, one first has to learn how to swim

I open the door for you
Just step through
My thoughts will come to yours
Between our rooms we will open the doors

There is no need to defend
All is heaven sent
Whatever way you expand
No need to offend

Whatever may one say
But we don't like it that way
It's between, said it before
Just read further if you want to know more

Why not
Simple questions to ask
Do opt
For this difficult task

If not just come by when you like
Be assured there will be no fight
And if you only could fly
Tell me how you flied through your sky.

Outgoing

What I can get from you
Is what I want to get from you
Don't want something out of the blue
From my mind I don't get something new

Searching for all else
Maybe doesn't help
But maybe does, who knows
I will go where the wind blows

One and one makes three
That is who I used to be
But one is just one
Cold and hard as a stone

Alone is worse than together
Together we can make anything better
While I can't help her
Your ideas I prefer

In places to meet
In places too deep
The talks can go down
Like in deep sea a stone

On surfaces surfing
Waiting to spring
The mind a ring
Inside you are the king

All around the world
I could not find
But the purpose of it all
Is to stay blind.

Flowing

Like the water
Never the same again
From one minute to another
It is transcendent

No form just source
What I tell you is true
But one second thereafter
It is wrong too

What is this all about
The spirits think
But if you sink
There is no doubt

That nothing stays the same
Even if it is completely dark
The pressure remains
No way to disembark

Enjoy the ride
Nothing else to do
Something again
Will take part of you

Looking back then
Years back
Don't knew a thing
Still not a lack

Of the body or the soul
Still fine after all
Changing again
Can't stay here my friend.

Ecstatic

One more little go
One more little push
The blood should flow
Surprised like in an ambush

The silver arms extend Trying to hold the worlds
To ascend
Where the fire burns

Getting a grip
The flesh like in a Morse code
Perfectly fits
Everything like a rose

Dangerous and beautiful
All makes us dull
To the time back were we still belong
Feeling so tall and feeling so strong

Got it
Nothing more to do
Just on the highest mountain
The world is now in you

A little bit higher
A jump over the edge
You cut it deep
But your feelings are hedged

Feet down in the abyss
The head above the universe
You've got the final bliss
No more need for a search.

Good

Once there was war
And all it was for
To survive at last
Making worth the past

Does not seem too long
Death has come along
A simple but effective task
But for individuals worst

The natural law of biology
Is not the one we need to be
It can be different as we are Once the mud but now the stars

A new law came along
Be good and be strong
Be bad and be strong
Was ruling all too long

If you want to have it
You surely will regret it
After all
Even if you win, finally you fall

Give a hand
Forget the lies
Rule the land
See it with different eyes

It is possible no doubt
But bad is strong in a lot
So good must be strong in a lot too
So be strong to be good.

To listen

Behind the white noise
The words came out like feelings
If we had a choice
We would made it up to the ceiling

Above we would talk
I would listen
I would walk
Away from the wisdom

All is me speaks the soul
And the soul is right
All is me speaks someone
And wants to fight

But listen to
While it hurts
You got through
To a birth

Of yourself and new Only need a few
More words from him
Just listening

But there are no words here
All disappeared
All in my head
Spoken like we all are alive and dead

Together, forever
Need you by my side
Tell me how
And I will join your ride.

Invitational

Come to my side
Take a ride
Go with me
A lot you will see

The doors are open for you
There is nothing but us two
We will go together
Will not last forever

Just the ride
Nothing more
Keep up the score
Till we collide

A dance through time
Drinking wine
Drinking love
Feel so high above

That is gone be
The end to all you see
The beginning of the new
A kiss for me and you

Hiding in fear
All disappeared
But fear not now
Just be proud

Standing before the monster
We wanted to hunt
It will get still hotter
And we will have so much fun.

Embracing

I want to embrace the world
But the world is too curled
The world betrays
I get out of its ways

Still has me so
Can't chose from then and now
But I need to know
Not only should the cities glow

A myriad of nerves
Keeps spinning the verse
Makes all blessed and sick
Still truth is in it

And that is all we came for Didn't we
And didn't she Waited to be part of the core

Finally she is
But she does not know what it means
So she goes out
Forgot all about

Remember it and keep it embraced
The only treasure in this maze
Looking at the face
Still disgraced

So walking on
Like the rolling stone
Like a limerick
It gives me the itch.

Pleased

I am pleased to do what I want
I heard it from someone Didn't understand
Gave me thought for food

Need the other way round
However, there was something in the sound
Sounded right so here it is
Few words that hit like a fist

So I am pleased
I need to confess
If everything is like a test
I am the worst of the best

To get down
Or get up
To drown
Or catch up

Whatever they are saying
Keep failing
To the one
Keep wining like the sun

Without a cause
Still so much applause
We cannot do it better
And it does not really matter

What matters most Haunted ghosts
Pleasures they seek Pleasures we need.

Disappointed

I've tried to do it right
But got lost along the way
Not everything in sight
Makes me run away

What promises were out there
They have turned to lies
Have searched for the truth
But it was the devil in disguise

Now all where I took a look
Nothing is at it seems it was Once read it in a book
There is no reason, only the cause

What makes me try to make the day
I do not know for sure
Maybe I just fade away
If so, still do not know a cure

The lines got heavier as it goes
I know the reason why
At some point my mind will blow
Before my eyes run dry

Just threw it all away
It's just dirt and filth
Now I only cry
No way to tilth

Is it the same for all of us
After we have seen some truth
Now the stars seem to rust
Let's wait for another youth.

Crestfallen

Forgot if I said it all long ago
If so I need to say it again
Words, just the two three four or ten
Another all time low

Tried it once, tried it twice, tried it again and again
Hidden in the den
Stood up, stood up, stood up from falling
Now what is left is only crawling

Without the brave
Everything is just dark
As everything is dark
A fact that makes one look smart

But who loves lasts
I know it's not me who can pass
So driving to the wall fast
Surely, I'm not the last

Gave up like him
Could not figure it out
Now only grim
And to shout out loud

Way too many things heard
All is spinning around and around
The sounds making sounds
Which I have found

Not the time
Not the place
Seems quite fine
But this I cannot face.

Bored

If I want to know
I will let you know

The word I know
You do not show
I know
Nothing new to follow

Take it and throw
Useless
I don't need to know

Laying here
No precious thoughts to know
I don't need it anymore

Time is not running
There is no fun in Waiting here
All too clear

Got bored with you
Thought it through Better to be alone

Sometime
I will stand
Up to find Another kind.

Derisive

You thought you won
You thought it's done
But not started yet
Soon you will regret

All the achievements made
Only will make you sad
Only brings back memories
About how it used to be

Once you stepped on me
Once I was the one to flee
Now you have joined to see
All the misery

Stepped up but was not high enough
Could not reach the stars
To hang on
What used to be the sun

So when the last will win
No need to start to begin
With tales of you and me
I saw but also now you will see

So giving it back
Is another kind of lack
What we both had to learn
I was but now you will burn

Enjoy it, as it makes you pure
Again, you will be reassured
All is going down the same old road
These words need to be told.

Sarcastic

Well, you have achieved all
But all that you have got
In some sense is not a lot
And this story needs to be told

Once a man walked up
It was irrespective of the fact
That there was nothing each step up
But all believed it was a lot

Now after he got up to the top
By no chance but all the luck
He managed to setup
The luck as measure of we all have got

Surprisingly, on the top like a truck
A man told him that he sucks
However, at this top
All words rhymed with luck

Could it be that at this top
My work did not suck because of luck
And as soon as he thought
The luck turned to suck

Now he didn't believed this tough luck
Irrespective to the fact
That also suck rhymed with luck
So he said my luck is to suck

At this moment the suck turned back to luck
And all that he got
From now on was seen by him because he suck
That pleased the luck and stayed with him and all he got.

Callous

What I do is not for you
It is for me and that is the truth
All the things, I found a few Remembered me that I am the new

Words or things don't convince me anymore
I want it all, I want to score
If it's not about me, I am easily bored
Trust me, I put you down the floor

Will work night and day
That you will move not stay
I will get you away
As my plan will surely not fade

Alone is not a problem here
I will make you disappear
Do not need anyone around
This is my place and it's my ground

The war you fight you will not win
Why, I can tell you from where it begins
I turned away but made a spin
Once was broad but now it's thin

Rudeness made my day
I can't turn away
If I do hate
It will fade away, again I have to say

And for the repetition
And the recognition
I am all the same
But I will give others the blame.

Suffering

There was a day
I found the treasure
While the day went away
The treasure stayed as a pleasure

Grew up with it
Did not know it was the greatest thing
At that time I split
No word I wanted to sing

The world came and with it the option
It caused an adoption
Of something else
Which promised me help

So I gave to it
Now I spit
The word not one anymore
Was going down to the core

Sold the world
Lost the pearl
My only one
Now it's gone

Everything I've got
Does not matter a lot
Without the precious
Which gave me so much pleasure

Lost now all
I did lose my soul
The only thing which should have stayed
I have betrayed and is far away.

Brawly

Can get away
From the feelings I had Told me many
About an enemy

That lurks in your soul
You will know it
Very cold
In a fever pit.

Shamefaced

The answers that I gave Did convince anyone
I just lost my face
Part of the abandoned son

Trying to convince
But nothing said at all
It is like a sin
That I dropped the ball

With laws that will collide
As soon as I bring them together
Who would need to fight
If everything stays forever

But truth has to be told
Just not as easy as it seems
Yes, I was so bold
But finally, happened only in my dreams

Now all that I just try
Is making it worse
Sounded like a lie
Treated like a curse

What I should have said
I now realized
Had me once betrayed
A devil in disguise

Will concentrate some more
To get through this phase
Don't know what it's for
But please let me through this place.

Demeaned

Tried to speak an idea
To people in the place
I know that there was fear
It screamed into my face

Once so tall and strong
Now just like the sand
Can't compare it all
From a different land

It spoken to me clear
I have done it wrong
No reason to shed a tear
If I may prolong

Still it does not fit
And this is all my fault
Trying for a bit
But now all is just salt

The highest one above
The deepest in the ground
I just tried to love
But all made a terrible sound

So even if I care
And even if they do
I not even dare
To speak again to you

They put me on the ground
Standing on me
Try to make a crying sound
The only thing which is now free.

Miserable

Feeling down in a whole
No place where I could go
Looking up, nothing to reach
Nothing to keep

I jump up over the land
Alone, with no friend
Can't go on like that I finally regret

Now black is the white
White is the black
Got confused in the fight
Want to go back

Traveled all the roads
At least it seems for me
Whoever calls
Anymore, I could not see

No all is left to do
To get out of this misery
Is switching off the light
To the one I used to be

Giving up me
Giving up hoping
I am broken
I need to flee

So I am running
But there is no beginning
And now only an end
Say goodbye, my very best friend.

Shattered in Hell

All devils came to me
Looking at the victim
Like a new casualty
Like an offering

The weak fear the strong
What is here
Is very clear
I do belong

My soul cries in pain
All time only rain
I die in vain
But no one to blame

I saw it coming
But no way out
I give you my best wishes
In here it is so loud

You will not hear
Shattered and in fear
My eternity remains
The fire I claim

Burning all the feeling
Inside the wheel
Round and round the downward spiral
My thoughts gone viral

Alone the devils see
The truth I knew
Was stolen by the ones who are free
Legion no, only a few.

Stuck in

You may see me as free
But I am stuck within
Only thing I feel
I cannot move a thing

Tried to change the line
But all looks just the same
I tried to make a lie
But it didn't walked my way

All the levers pulled
All the bottoms pushed
But there is no more fuel
Nothing can be moved

What should the meaning be
If all I can do is sit and wait
Once I was so free
But now I'm just afraid

The world gave me its view
Now I disintegrate
Even for the hate
I do not see a way

Fences up and walls damn high
Barely can move the head
If you got something worth
Better you do it instead

A stone could be used
But I am stuck within Another one abused
The world again will win.

Slouchy

Gave the one a chance
Gave another one the same
Wanted to enhance
But got only pretty lame

With winners and losers
One will just choose her
Beyond the obvious path
Nothing lasts

Got tired, yes we know
Not your fault
Just got cold, like the snow
Now halt

Gold, cold and snow
Not within a tableau
Reality a foe

Bought it
Embraced it
Fought it
Faced it

Lost the war
Tiny victories
What I saw
You soon will see

Till then
Look at the walk
Everyone who has it
You already forgot.

Full of pain

Who thought that it would be
Like it is today
I wanted so much to see
But all has slept away

The dreams have turned to dust
No water there to drink
I'm going down so fast
I'm going down, I sink

Could have been else
You told me all about
But you don't knew how I felt
Living below the cloud

Tried it to but nothing helped
In a cage with all the pain
I just sold myself
I was insane

Now paying the price
Rolling the dice
The coins will tell
That I can't help myself

So no way out and no way in
There can't be a new to begin
With all the feelings inside my head
Makes me want to fade away

Can't stay
Can't go
Options to choose from
Are no more.

Incompetent

All I tried to do
Failed the test of time
I did not know
That all the waste is mine

The great ideas I wanted to realize
Just burning in the sea
Got nothing left of all
I will be just nice

Of incompetence
The anger was always onto me
I hated to be alone
But with these eyes I do not want to see

Tried and tried
Got so far away
I left now alone
Just go to where I will leave

The taste is the same
But feelings gone mad
Cannot be anything else
As being about that thing so sad

How was it once before
Forgot a long time ago
Did I just get bored
Or am I my own foe

Got it wrong all the time
But truth is
Did searched for what I thought I will find Reality as a fist.

Ignoble

Things you thought you will not say
Things you thought you will not do
After all, all fades away
But what will stay is the truth

Once it was quite clear
Have no fear
In doing what is right for you
Simple enough, but for me it was the truth

A right and wrong
No doubts in here
When I roamed around
All clearness disappeared

Can't make a choice
All is the same
Once had a voice
Nothing the same

The words deep inside my heart
Spelled curses upon my way
Being wrong and to fall apart
Is what they claimed for me

So ignoble
Seems unstoppable
The dark seeks Makes weak

What was done
Cannot be undone
I lost, it won
What have I become.

Shocked

Feelings roused
The Es speaks
Too weak
Responses closed

Nightmare to think
In a blink
All will sink
Regrets your drink

Down your throat
No air to speak
All blocked
The hate leaks

It's there
Compare
Stronger
Despair

Now out
Waves
You want to take it back
But no taking back of what has been said

Guilty and shocked
Now locked
Before and after Laughter

Of the bad
Of the one who wants the end
The enemy
Not a friend.

Remorseful

I did wrong
Was not that strong
Was weak
A new way I now seek

Tried to resist
But I missed
The point
Not disjoint

At least for me
Could not see
How strong it is
I am pissed

I am shattered
I am shocked
Can't explain
But not again

Stepped over
The other side
It is not nice
There to hide

Going back
Not to come again
The other side is not my friend
An enemy defined by a lack

Remorseful
The first step
Then another step
Till to the line you stepped back.

Wretched

Forgot all the hope
Forgot all the dreams
After the step
Nothing as it seems

Tried to convince me
But lost the way
Reasons
With me do not stay

I want to let
You go,
but I am wretched
So please
Tell me how

Breaking the lines
In disguise
Hope nobody sees
But still my misery

Got free
To get caught again
Wanted to see
But the truth this time was not one of my friends

After the meat grinder
Maybe I can find her
Which I lost along the way
Please, oh please stay

With me and my obsession
I'm in a constant regression
So full of passion
But wretched within the learned lessons.

Dejected

Got rejected
No I'm dejected
Tried to help
But now I need to help myself

So much weakness
So much dirt
Needless
Since the birth

Who am I talking to
In this cold room
If I get through
Still will be doomed

Got it lost
Now can't find it again
The guilt as a boss
Comes like a train

Once I only heard you
Now I cannot find your voice
If I would have a choice
I would hope you want me back too

The sun so shiny
Couldn't open my eyes
Even outside bright
Its black inside

The cloud came
And with it the shade
I fade away
Without your aid.

Aghast

Drunk folks singing drunk rhymes
Who lives or die, not worth a dime
Before and after all feels fine
But between the time we need to drink the wine

Bewildered, crowded in the space
Get red, a punch into the face
It's an arms world, and it is a race
If you can't keep up, there will be no chase

Hooking on
Like a small bird
A grasp in the tree
A sound never been heard

Climbing above
Falling down below
My love
I want to follow

The storm in my hear
The way into the sea
I felt a second before
I had to give in

Prepared to the end
Who would say that in the face
Of the death who came to take your place
No one is amazed

A nonlinear plan
Shit hits the fan
One demand
The fallen have to be sent.

Cowardice

You call me coward
But at the same time
I am your friend
And look outward

You look inside
You find no pride
You find no hope
Stop being so bored

Get across the sea
Demand that you need to be free
Demand that you need to have it all
Speak out loudly it's because you feel so small

I turned away
You turned too
We do not need to stay
But between us are only a few

Come on go with the flow
You redirected everything, so now go
If the future starts so slow
Do not need to start but go down below

Draft, draft, sinking text
Forgotten which was next
A new and anew nothing to declare
However, not one thing was actually spared

Hiding between wars
Hiding behind bars
Hiding as a reason to be far
Away and stay, does not mean to be brave.

Rigid

What I say needs to be done
There is no fun
In my command
I will put everything I demand

True I feel sorry
But not for you
Or any glory
That has been sued

Again, what has it done to me
I am blind but I know how to see
If I am free, you will be in misery
Now I am free, I will bound your me

A cage to be built
A victim to be kept
Don't feel any guilt
Just entrapped

A cry of a lover
To discover
Being betrayed
Being so sad

Now I am rigid
Do not go with it
Only can be standing alone
From the flesh to the bones

So turn and turn
Everything you see
Only something which will burn
You and your entire orgasmatron tree.

Unjustified

Seems all has to be said
To make confusion instead
We should just lay in bed
Just being sad

Nothing at all
Just feeling again small
Wanted to be tall
But seems just being small

What else to be done
I am the one
Trying to prevent
But seems I cannot bend

The way I wanted it
Now being haunted
You may try to count it
But you cannot confront it

Simple math
One plus one
A formula
But I don't know how

Transferring into a different realm
All the same here it seems Still all different and hiding
Wicked and spying

I will be trying
But with you I am failing
Because there is no sailing
In deep waters we fighting.

Disenchanted

Tried to ask the insects
Tried to ask my blood
Tried to ask the government
No answers that I've got

One step above
And one below
No words can bridge the gap
If I could I would have told you but now all seems mad

This one wants this
And that one wants that
No single overlap
I think I will snap

Just all on horizontal
No way to cross the bridge
Just periodontal
But who is really rich

Can't keep track
I am emperor he said
Sure I would believe it
With a bullet in my head

Got nothing to say
Still all doing what they are supposed to
On the other hand even without a clue
I know for them I am the one who is dead

So there are my laws, there and those
I am lost and I will lose
Can't bear it and take the fall
But when darkness reigns I will see it all.

Bad feeling

Can't say yes, if I need to say no
Principally you could stay, but I say go
It's not about stocks, it is about the flow
Candle in the light, glow

Perplexed about the situation
It is a miracle and a different penetration
Of feelings and emotions which come in a wave
Riding on them is only for the brave

Or the ones who know what they want
Or at least what they do not want from
The others or closer ones it not matters a lot
If you gave it all, still it would be not a lot

Drinking and percolations
Just step in, no hesitation
If you go we do the celebration
But staying is an agitation

Word lengths dependent on the viral
Going down like my famous downward spiral
Used the slide from someone else
Either way both burn in hell

Crocking down a tribulation
More like a stipulation
A small sweet sensation
But not for me I simple break in

Could not walk with this guts
I am going from insane to go nuts
Tell me what I need to know
With these lines you should know how.

Sorrow-Stricken

All that I wanted is going to fall
Down and that is not all
I wanted is going to Fall down, what I wanted to Mesmerizing, painful regrets

Cannot show what is left
There I wanted full of regrets
What is left

So going on but how
It is not past, future, but now
Do I have to bow down below
Don't know the how

Repetitions I find everywhere
Always scared
Always someone scarred
Falling apart

Do find my line
But find pain instead
Maybe it is fine
Just my head

Don't think too much
Someone said
But what I have got
Is driving mad

All the ones who showing to me
How strong they will be
I cannot see
How to be weak and free.

Unhappy

Word was said
All is bad
Nothing is free
Only misery

World cold as stone
Wet to the bone
All alone
Just cold

Rain falling all the time
No wine
Not feeling fine
I won't like to but would need to cry

Desperate but what to do
Feeling so blue
Don't know what to do
A circle to not escape from the blue

Myriads of tries
Just alibies
Of the inability
To not see

Giving up the spirit
A machine a merit
The machine a solution
Soul pollution

Thoughts said and done
Who won
Who lost
Just frost.

Secluded

Different paradise
Enemy in disguise
Stupid not wise
All just lies

For us or all
Can't stand tall
In a system of hate
No one can celebrate

Going down real hard
There is no new start
Just try to bark
Leave away to be torn apart

Tried to be
But resigned
Forced to be fine
But couldn't be mine

Away from the cloud
Away from all
A selection of pressures
That supposed to make us tall

Could not stand it
How we all can do
Give it away
Maybe that is the clue

To all and everything
But sedated I think Within one blink
Still gone sink.

Moaning

Cannot hear the words anymore
A death and moaning as a cure
Another one is born
Once to life it was sworn

Cannot hear it anymore
It is not a door
It is not something like a next
Like a new project

A new start
A new beginning
To be a part
Of a new spinning

Round and round
Moaning here and there
I could swear
Was not here before they found

Some kind of ritual
Bilingual
Death and the living
A new beginning

From one country to another
I see all other
But do not bother
They are simply some lovers

Of the black and white
Out of sight
For us at least
It is a feast.

Free

Must get free from this bounds
Was a good idea but now it has found
A way to your and my heart
We need the end, we need a new start

Got it all but what makes sense
Do not see any difference
I go in reality I go back in trance
Everywhere I look there is this fence

Tried to give it up
But with you I am stuck
Tried to try my luck
But you just tear me apart

Once a good idea
But now it is too long
Tried to compromise my fear
But too long was the song

I am coming back once there is water there
Once when I will not care
About the laws you made for yourself
You know it well, I cannot help myself

So let it go loose
No need to choose
Just a new line after line
Here it may be, but there it is not a crime

So feel fine
You just hear all what is worth
A new beginning on a brand new earth
A new beginning, a new birth.

Insensitive

Whatever came to my ear
I will not hear
I will walk as nothing has happened
Yours, not my end

Going along
Going alone
The signs I knew
Long time gone

Born to be strong
But all alone
Still a home
But not where we coming from

A sign, a program, a code
The system which is full of nodes
A reflection of dependence
The end of the sentence

Still going strong
Came all along
How do you like me now
Don't like to stand, but still will not follow

A dream in a dream
Once been told
A miracle maybe
But has been sold

Now hidden in the world
A treasure to be found
All is curled
All is round.

Happy feeling

Happy happy sinful part
Part of a forgotten art
Don't make you stupid, don't make you smart
The brain is simple not a part

Chemicals like brothers
Come together to make a mother
Revenge oh please I want to have Standing before you, spit on your grave

Oh it is me what misery
I was the one I used to be
Now everything I needed to see
Was my beginning of the end of me

Both standing here
What do you know, just disappear
A question and answer to my blood
What made me mad I simply forgot

Got it back I paid too much
On the other hand have all I got Trouble stones of broken heart
Just running like a brand new clock

So nothing to do
Just feel the blues
Just feel the sweet
Makes me regret

But again I can't be mad
That I am happy and not sad
Part of me just want to forget
Don't will demand, will simply beg.

Gay

Whatever happens to me
Not on my radar screen
I just live my life
Do not need to deprive

Go out and make some fun
Spend it all time long
I am not weak I am not strong
I simple come along

True I am false
But who else is not Tried to save it in a spot
Going back and take a lot

Try it out or give it up
I am the one who never stops
I am the one who never thinks
That bad is happen within a blink

Dance with me
All is need to be done
No need to flee
I am the one

I take you out
I make you dance
I will go loud
Unique romance

As said, so much fun with me
And if you disagree
I put your heart outside your body
Eat it up and spend all your money

Jaunty

While you drifting down the abyss
I blow you a kiss
You drift
But my stones did not fit

Was going with you to the sea
To see your misery
You were going down the beach
The darkness you reached

You were going down like a stone
I said you do not have to go alone
But what took you down
Was to light for me, I could not draw

I am to light
Don't know to fight
Don't know to lose
Don't need to choose

But you did as you are dark
You knew no silence
You're always stuck
Always out of luck

Was going with you as much as I could
But I understood
You are not me and I am not you
You are going down in the dark blue

But I can swim
No stones to drag
In the abyss you want me to drag
But I am light, sorry, will be here, can't be so sad.

Blithely

This is war
I know
But I am going slow
Not like before

Bullets of hate
Shooting the fate
All are sad
But you call me mad

I go longest
Can't you see
I am strongest
What you used to be

Just closed my eyes
Now opened it wide
Kind of different fight
Just from the other side

I see things you cannot see
Maybe because I don't need to flee
I am here just as I need it to be Ignore the bullets and you are free

So many are wounded
So many will die
Maybe I am the next
But don't need to live in a lie

So I see the rose
So I see the stars
All is so close
Do not need to go far.

Radiant

The atoms told the story
Such wonderful words
They are not in a hurry
Just waiting, it lurks

Everybody who touches me
Gets a different kind
If you want to see
You need me to find

I am here a second or two Thousand years still brand new
What I am I have no clue
But I am not a lie and speak the truth

Like light
Don't forget
Perfect foresight
I guess

But the laws of myself
Are hidden in a shelf
Are hidden far below
Somewhere I do not want to go

Give it a chance
You like me the way I am
Not your enemy your friend
If you want, can be your lover, a kiss to be sent

Come closer
You want me I know
I want you but you first have to show
The feelings for me, do not chose her.

Innocent

A normative inclination
Some sort of sanitation
I got my own celebration
For your satisfaction

Got it white
Was never different
A perfect sight
Needs to be sent

An angel
Oh yes
What a mess
We confess

So make a law
What you have done before
Does not make you more
Just dirt, no angels as before

Standing there
Need to be fair
Oh so innocent
If it is not yours, it will be my end

Brand new start
Your heart stops
Going nuts
Falling apart

Got it good
With you sawing it once
Like food
Makes a launch.

Pleased

Oh yes
Things indeed worked out better than we planned
But everything ruined
Your remark at the end

But where should have we gone
With all the fears within Don't born strong
So we take all where we went

A friend
An end
To be sent Against

Simple formulas
Which make it complex at the end
A simple friend
No need to defend

Going a simple life
Taking a complex wife
A complex husband
A fight to the end

As we wanted it to be Simple life, so carefree
Still we bleed
Broken machinery

But no problem at all
No one is that tall
So that everything else is small
Just bury it all.

Well

Some feelings cannot be told
Some words have to be sold
To the highest bidder, it's bitter
With money still does not make it any sweeter

But here it is, all we have is enough for all
I stand still and I stand tall
I will make the final call
To invite everybody to my fall

It is good, no doubt
Like to shout out loud
I am so proud
Of me and you and all we have got

Try it out
Feels good man
I make it loud
Just be my fan

It tried the words around
Do not make any sound
It is still going around
But still it can be found

Will be on top
No top to spot
But you and I got it a lot
So don't stop

A long line
Like a curve
Feeling fine
My turf.

Euphoric

I want you
Your eyes caught me
My days were lonely
But now all will be new

So can you look in my eyes
And see my desire for you
I can't fight these Thoughts that make me so blue

Without you, I dream of you
The price of fortune and fame
Going far away
I know I want you, I can't be wrong

I take your hand
Flying through time and space
Once caught in a maze
But now all is a helping friend

To get closer to you
Makes me crazy
The love that burns my heart
Chases me

You make the music go loud
You make the music taking a different sound
I can't stop loving you
The devil in me wants not only a part of what you want to put me through

Too long this feeling I felt
Now holding your hand it's like heaven sent Living in heaven or living in hell
To get you in my arms, the whole world I would sell.

Reliable

You wanted to make it perfect
And you got it for free
What you needed for that
Was me

No problem
As I wanted to be on your side anyway
More of the same
Will not make anyway to finally stay

You knew
I knew
Someone like you
Is part of the truth

I got it like a machine
A formula to be applied
With me you win
The contest, still not the fight

Pearls going around in this game
Make it the same
No fortune and fame
This time it is the final claim

To be made
Don't be sad
All goes along
Staying strong

Why not
Makes one hot
And what you have got
Is both our luck.
